JEALOUSY MAY HAVE FURNISHED MURDER MOTIVE

Minnesotan Named as Beneficiary in Chicago Patrolman's Will

Woman With Whom Dead Man Boarded is Now Under Surveillance

(By Associated Press.)
CHICAGO, Nov. 2.—A possibility that jealousy might have played a part in the death of Arthur Bissonette, a Chicago policeman, today proved a new fact for the investigation being conducted by the coroner and police departments. The filing of the patrolman's will shatters the belief that Mrs. Louise Vermilya, under police surveillance in connection with Bissonette's death, and with whom Bissonette boarded, was engaged to the officer. The will showed Miss Lydia Rivard, daughter of a farmer at Marshall, Minn., to be the fiancée and chief beneficiary. Although Mrs. Vermilya is named in the document as a witness, she declared she knew nothing of it. Whether action will be taken against the woman depends on the report of the toxicologists who are examining Bissonette's viscera.

Taft Witnesses Most Notable Naval Pageant in History of Country

Every Class of Fighting Ship Known in Navy in Line of Review

(By Associated Press.)
NEW YORK, N. Y., November 2.—From the bridge of the Mayflower, where Theodore Roosevelt had stood to bid good speed to the departing, and joyous welcome to the homecoming battleship fleet that circled the globe three years ago, President Taft today reviewed the most notable assemblage of warships in the history of the American navy. From the standpoint of fighting power, the number of ships in line, and spectacular setting, the review presented a marine picture of unsurpassed beauty and impressiveness. In three long columns, stretching as far as the eye could see up the Hudson river the grim grey ships, 99 in all, had awaited the president's coming. In his honor they were dressed from stem to stern in fluttering flags as if attempting for this gala occasion to conceal the muzzles of the death dealing guns. There were 24 battleships in line, representing every type of that class of fighting vessel in the navy from the Indiana, Massachusetts and Iowa, of special war fame, down to the last word in completed super-dreadnaughts, the majestic Florida, which today lifted the voice of her guns in their first salute. Armored cruisers, scout cruisers, destroyers, torpedo boats and auxiliaries made up the grand total. New York, which has been "navy mad" for nearly a week, turned out by hundreds of thousands to witness the review. The day was favored by perfect weather. The mobilization and review of the fleet at this time was simply a demonstration of the preparedness of the American navy for any emergency. President Taft materially altered his travel plans to come to New York at this time to witness the pageant. He expected to leave for Hot Springs, Va., late this afternoon.

GOVERNMENT INVESTIGATES WHEAT CORNER

Cases May be Prepared and Submitted to Various Grand Juries

Armour Grain Company May be Prevented from Disposing of Receipts

(By Associated Press.)
WASHINGTON, D. C., November 2.—An alleged corner of wheat, centered at Chicago and extending to Minneapolis, Duluth, Buffalo and Baltimore, by which it is declared sixty per cent of the country's wheat supply is controlled, has been under investigation by agents of the department of justice some time and results may be presented to the respective grand juries within a few days. To insure the necessary evidence the government, it is said, is about to ask the grand jury at Chicago to prevent the Armour Grain Co., of that city, through which it is alleged those who control the corner operate, from transferring or disposing of warehouse receipts.

CHICAGO, Ill., November 2.—United States District Attorney James H. Wilkerson today threatened contempt proceedings against any one found to have been responsible for the reports originating in the east that the federal grand jury would investigate board of trade conditions. "The making of disclosures with reference to grand jury proceedings is contempt of court," he said. "The business of this office will be conducted on that principle, and the courts will be called upon to enforce it in this district, no matter who may be involved."

ARMED FORCE IS NECESSARY TO BACK UP TREATY

Former President Comments on Situation in China and Tripoli

Bad Turkey a Fleet of Any Size Italy Would Not Have Declared War

(By Associated Press.)
NEW YORK, November 2.—The war between Italy and Turkey proves the utter inefficiency of paper treaties when they are unbacked by force, according to an article by Theodore Roosevelt, on "Arbitration, pretense and reality," in the current number of the Outlook. Mr. Roosevelt, who thinks "the real friends of peace in this country ought to be able to profit by the events that happened in China and in the Mediterranean during these fall months, since the arbitration treaty was considered in the senate." Mr. Roosevelt says, "The complete absence of militarism in China and the Chinese effort to rely purely on pacific measures in dealing with all foreign powers within the last few decades, have had but the smallest effect in saving it from tyrannical government, and the most far reaching economic misery at home, and moreover, has had the effect of depriving it of the means of keeping order within its boundaries. As for the war between Italy and Turkey," continues Mr. Roosevelt, "I am not now concerned with its ethical justification. Personally I believe it is in the interest of humanity that Tripoli should fall under European control. But this is not the point," says the former president. "The point is that this war proves the utter insufficiency of paper treaties when they are unbacked by force. The utter folly of those who believe that these paper treaties accomplish any useful purpose in the present stage of the world's development when there is no force behind them." Mr. Roosevelt says, "Turkey has all the protection it is possible to give her by these paper treaties, and yet all these treaties thus guaranteeing her against disarmament are not worth as much as a single gun-boat of the smallest size the minute that it becomes worth while for any serious opponent to attack her. If Turkey had a fleet as strong as her army no man of any sense believes that the war would have occurred."

President Taft Reviews the Greatest Fleet Ever Assembled Under Old Glory

NEW YORK, Nov. 2.—Twenty-four battleships, two armored cruisers, two cruisers, 22 destroyers, 16 torpedo boats, eight submarines and enough vessels of other classes to bring the total up to 102 are assembled in the Hudson river to await the coming of President Taft, who reviewed the fleet Thursday, November 2. The president, aboard the Mayflower, steamed along the fleet from West Fifty-seventh street to West One Hundred and Sixty-ninth street.
