

PRINCE IS EMPLOYED AS CLERK

FUTURE RULER OF GERMANY WORKS DAILY ENJOYS CONFIDENCE OF ENTIRE COUNTRY

Frederick William's Part in Exposing Evils of Court Circle Makes Him Popular with the Masses

By Associated Press. BERLIN, Nov. 3.—Crown Prince Frederick William is devoting himself with much zeal in his new work in the ministry of the interior.

He lives in Potsdam, eighteen miles from his office, and to get there by 9 a. m. he must arise before 7 every morning. He comes in an automobile, and so far has been punctual.

He occupies a desk exactly like those of the other clerks within the jurisdiction of Privy Councillor von Falkenhayn, who is the guide of the crown prince in learning how the interior administration of Prussia is handled.

The crown prince sees the mail to the ministry opened and distributed to the baskets of the various bureaus or forwarded to other ministries. He has the privilege of taking the papers on any subject that interests him to his own desk to study.

During the past week he has given his attention especially to a project concerning the breeding of army horses, which has been passed on from the interior to the agricultural department.

The crown prince went to the ministry of agriculture and interviewed the authorities on horse breeding, and he attended a meeting of horse breeders to hear the subject discussed by practical men.

He remains at the ministry of the interior until between 12 and 1 o'clock every day, and takes home such papers as he wishes, often working evenings on the reports. This month the crown prince will attend, in addition to his work at the ministry, a course of lectures at the Berlin university.

The crown prince has steadily grown popular with the people, for to him is attributed the overthrow of the so-called Eulenberg camarilla at court.

H. E. WELCH IS TREATED AT HOSPITAL

Declares Divorced Wife Attempted to Slay Him, but Was Overpowered in Struggle for Weapon

Claiming that his divorced wife, Mrs. Mary Welch, had attempted to shoot him in her room at 30 Maple avenue, and that after a desperate struggle with the infuriated woman he had wrenched the revolver from her hands and thrown it from the window, only to have the woman sink her teeth deeply into his hand, H. E. Welch, proprietor of a livery stable and pool room at Watts station, was taken to the receiving hospital yesterday morning.

According to Welch's statement to the police he was divorced nearly three months ago. Yesterday's attempt on his life, he said, was the second time the woman had tried to kill him. Three months ago when he filed divorce proceedings the woman persuaded him to visit her room, where she tried to brain him with the butt end of a revolver, he asserts.

Saturday night, according to Welch's statement, the woman invited him to her room at 30 Maple avenue. The couple quarreled and the woman drew a revolver and pointed it at Welch. The latter grasped her wrist, and succeeded after a long struggle in wresting the weapon from her grasp.

Welch told the police he would ask for a complaint against the woman today. Mrs. Mary Welch was at about one time the wife of Patrolman J. C. Swan. About two years ago Swan, who was constantly brooding over his domestic troubles, threw himself in front of a car and was killed. His widow married Welch a year later.

C. M. BARCLAY CAPTURED IN NEW ORLEANS

FACES TRIAL AS BIGAMIST AND SWINDLER

Prominent Man, Alleged to Have Wed Bessie Tichenor, Chorus Girl, Despite Previous Marriage, Is in Jail

C. M. Barclay, formerly a prominent clubman of Los Angeles but during the last two months a fugitive from justice, was apprehended in New Orleans yesterday on a charge of forgery, and will be brought back to Los Angeles to stand trial on charges similar to those on which he was arrested, and will also be compelled to face a charge of bigamy.

KILLS SECRET SERVICE MAN

COLORADO MINER FIRES AT GOVERNMENT OFFICER

Slaying Justified, According to Report of Company—Says Employe Were Shot at by Sleuth

By Associated Press. DENVER, Colo., Nov. 3.—Word reached here tonight that James Walker, a United States secret service man, was shot and killed today by an employe of the Hesperus mine, located several miles west of Durango. The shooting occurred at the mouth of the air shaft of the mine and is said to have been done in self defense.

The Hesperus mine is owned by the Porter Fuel company and C. G. Dorsey, attorney for the company, was notified of the killing today. His report of the affair, which he says is trustworthy, clearly justifies the shooting.

It seems the government agents have been in the Durango country for several days gathering evidence to be used in prosecuting persons indicted for fraudulent entries on coal lands.

This being Sunday, no work was in progress in the Hesperus mine and several of the miners were strolling over the company's property, and on approaching the air shaft, isolated from the rest of the workings, a man who was standing at the mouth of the shaft, ordered them to halt. The miners thought he was joking and did not obey, whereupon, according to Dorsey's story, the man fired the bullet passing close to the head of one of the miners. The latter whipped out a revolver and returned the fire, killing the man instantly.

Investigation developed that he was Walker. Further investigation showed that a rope ladder had been let down into the mine, and this was hauled to the surface. Some time afterward three men, all government agents, appeared at the mine entrance, being unable to make exits any other way.

Dorsey says there was no reason for the secret service man entering the Hesperus mine, as the title to the property was not questioned, and their act was simple trespass.

AFTER TWENTY YEARS' WAIT, DYNAMITE FORCE CALLED

Portion of New York Fire Department Is Put to Test, and Within Six Minutes First Man Covers Two Miles and Reports

By Associated Press. NEW YORK, Nov. 3.—After waiting twenty odd years for their three "ives," the dynamite squad of the fire department responded today to a test call and in regulation time was on hand with ammunition enough to have blown up the city.

The dynamite squad, or more properly speaking, the sappers' corps, was organized in the early eighties. The members are lieutenants, or assistant foremen, in ninety-two fire houses in Manhattan and the Bronx. The ninety-two men are marshaled in four battalions. The duties of the corps are to dynamite buildings, should necessity arise, to stay a conflagration such as visited Baltimore and San Francisco. Their services in their capacity have never been required, but today Chief Croker decided to test their efficiency.

He pulled the dynamite alarm from a down town box, and in six minutes, the first man coming two miles by subway express, saluted his chief. At the heels of the first were the others, and not a man on duty failed to respond.

"Not bad," commented Chief Croker.

HOTEL BURNS, LOSS $30,000

PACIFIC OCEAN HOUSE AT SANTA CRUZ DESTROYED

Flames for a Time Menace Business Part of Town and Help is Asked of a Neighboring City

By Associated Press. SANTA CRUZ, Nov. 3.—Fire thought to have originated in the ceiling over the range in the Pacific Ocean house caused a tank of fuel oil to explode on top of the hotel today. The big caravansary was soon enveloped in flames. A few small frame buildings at the rear of the hotel were also burned, but outside of Jonas' clothing store, which occupied a portion of the business frontage of the hotel, very little damage was done to business houses adjacent.

It took three hours to control the flames. For a while conditions seemed so menacing that a special train was telegraphed for to bring Watsonville fire engines to the assistance of the local firemen. This was countermanded when it was found to be unnecessary.

The Pacific Ocean house, which is a total loss, was the property of the F. A. Hihn company, and was built at a cost of $30,000. The insurance is small. Hedgecote Brothers, lessees of the hotel, lose $10,000 in hotel furnishings, which is partially covered by insurance.
