Gave $67,000 to University and Upset Oil

have a New York shadow from Lincoln, Nebraska. In spite of the public attack on him in Nebraska by the University of Nebraska, the governor has none the less given his blessing to the proposed building of the university.

In a special message to the legislature, Governor McCook said: "The legislature will have been asked to give $67,000 to the University of Nebraska. This is the proper way to proceed, and I shall be prepared to sign the appropriation when it is sent to me."

Mr. McCook said in conclusion: "I have not the least desire to interfere with the legislature in the matter of the University of Nebraska. I am only asking you to give this money to the university, as it is the right thing to do."

The legislature is now in session, and the governor has not yet given any indication of how he will vote on the question. It is expected that the legislature will vote to give the money to the university, as it is the proper thing to do.
