OPERATION ON KAISER. NO TRACE YET OF ABEEL. POLYPUS IN THE LARYNX. IS SAID TO BE ERRATIC.

Removal Successful—No Trace of Cancer—Rapid Recovery.

Berlin, Nov. 8.—Emperor William yesterday underwent an operation for the removal of a polypus from his larynx. The operation was performed by Professor Moritz Schmidt and was entirely successful.

The following bulletin was issued this morning: The Emperor spent yesterday quietly in his room. He slept through the night without interruption.

The surgeons expect that the Emperor will be out of doors in a week. He has arranged a hunting trip for Friday, November 27.

The following is an authorized account of the operation given to "The North German Gazette":

Potsdam, November 7. His majesty to-day underwent an operation for the removal of a polypus from his larynx. The operation was performed by Professor Moritz Schmidt and was most successful.

His majesty is only enjoined not to speak until the wound caused by the operation is healed.

Dr. LENTHOLD, SCHMIDT, ILBERG.

"The North German Gazette" also publishes the report of Professor Johannes Orth, the famous cancer specialist, who succeeded the late Professor Virchow in the chair of pathological anatomy at the University of Berlin.

The Emperor yesterday went for a walk. No guests were invited to luncheon or dinner yesterday.

The Emperor received Count von Bülow at noon to-day, and afterward had luncheon with the Emperor and the count in his bedroom.

The growth in the larynx at once suggested that the Emperor might be suffering from something worse than a simple polypus, but Professors von Lenthold, Ilberg, Schmidt and Orth supplement the bulletins, in replying to inquiries, by the most positive personal declarations that the affection was merely a "good natured polypus," which is not likely to return or to be followed by any evil effects.

SOPHOMORES BEAT A PIG TO DEATH. Massachusetts S. P. C. A. to Prosecute for Killing the Freshmen's Mascot.

Boston, Nov. 8.—President Angell of the Massachusetts Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals is gathering evidence to be used in the prosecution of students of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, who beat a little pig to death at the intersession games yesterday.

The pig, all besmeared with yellow paint, with the figure "1903" painted on its side, was taken to the field as a mascot for the freshmen team and turned loose. A crowd of spectators chased it with heavy clubs, and battered its life out in front of the grandstand.

UNDER HYPNOTIC INFLUENCE! Two Young Women, Each a Governess, Disappear in Norfolk, Va.

Norfolk, Va., Nov. 8.—Miss Laura T. Moxley and Miss Annie L. Jones, each twenty-three years old, and employed as governesses at the homes of C. Billups and Cornelius De Witt, have disappeared.

Mr. Souther, manager of the Lyric Theatre, in Hoboken, has come to the commissioner's rescue by taking out two orchestra chairs and substituting for them a chair of double width and double strength.

NO TRACE YET OF ABEEL. IS SAID TO BE ERRATIC.

Disappeared Morning That Anderson Disclosures Were Made.

The police theory that the elusive "J. Ogden Goelet," who, it is alleged, impersonated one of the vice-presidents of the Western Union Telegraph Company, and with false pretensions proposed marriage to Miss Eleanor Anderson, is James Abeel, of the Chateau apartments, at No. 239 Central Park West, received additional color yesterday.

After denying the report that Mrs. Abeel was his niece, Mr. Leverich, when seen at his home, No. 27 Washington Square North, said:

I have known Mr. Abeel about eighteen months, in the course of which I have seen him only three or four times, mostly when he came to my office. My relations with him were practically altogether of a business nature. He came to my office a week or two ago and asked me to do something for him in a business way.

Mr. Leverich denied that Abeel's visit to him had any bearing on the Anderson case. From his remembrance of Mr. Abeel he doubted whether his description tallied with that of the mysterious "Goelet."

It was said yesterday that three sets of detectives were working on the case. Detective Sergeant Collins and Valley, of Police Headquarters, on the charge of forging the signature of J. B. Van Every, vice-president of the Western Union; detectives from the Mooney & Boland agency, employed by Robert Goelet, on the charge of the impersonation by "Goelet" of a member of the Goelet family, and detectives employed by W. C. Anderson and his son, on the charge of misrepresentation or worse.

Abeel was up to a late hour last night had not been arrested. Captain Langan, at Police Headquarters, early in the evening, admitted that Valley and Collins were seeking to arrest Abeel, but so far, without success.

The discovery of Abeel will furnish a solution to the identity of "J. O. Goelet," was borne out by the fact that throughout the day members of their calling were seen to enter the Chateau apartments, and were known to have talked with Mrs. Mary Good, the housekeeper, and Mrs. Abeel. Mrs. Good declined to make any statement yesterday regarding the case.

Up to a late hour last night Mrs. Anderson and Miss Anderson had not returned to their home, at No. 330 West Fifty-first-st. Both W. C. Anderson, the girl's father, and her brother, William Anderson, Jr., were at their restaurant, at Sixth-ave. and Forty-third-st., as usual.

The house in Cooper-ave., East Long Branch, at which Mrs. Anderson and her daughter are said to be staying, was apparently unoccupied when visited early last evening. The blinds were drawn and the house was in darkness.

Members of the faculty of the university are much exercised over the affair and are also making a rigid investigation. It has been hinted that Loew's sudden illness and death may have been caused by a drug given to him or taken by himself in mistake.

HOUSE NOT SENT BY MAIL. But Congressman Robinson Transports About a Ton of Baggage in That Way.

Washington, Ind., Nov. 8.—When Congressman Robinson started for Washington a few days ago there was much commotion among the mail clerks. They could not understand why the eastbound mails were suddenly so heavy from Fort Wayne.

LOVE STORIES BARRED AT COLLEGE. Northwestern Professor Doesn't Think They Go Well with Coeducation.

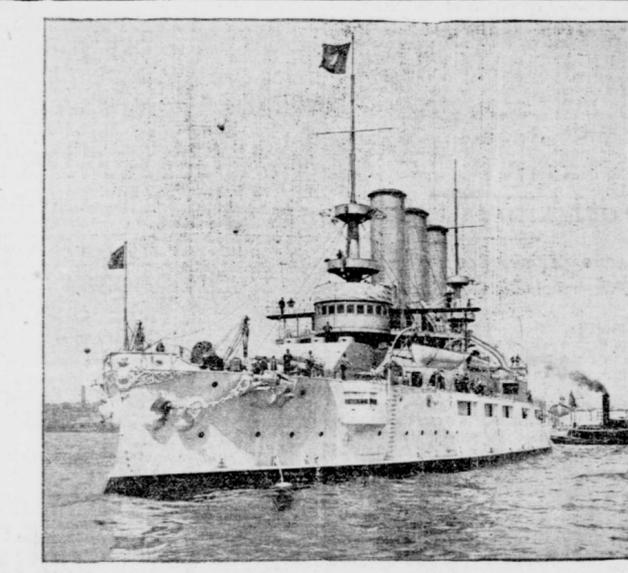

Chicago, Nov. 8.—Love stories and coeducation make a bad combination, according to Professor J. P. Odell, who has charge of the fiction classes at Northwestern University, and he has issued an edict that all highly sentimental romance must give way for sterner stuff.

MR. ROOT GOES DIRECT TO WHITE HOUSE. Washington, Nov. 8.—Secretary Root, who returned to New-York yesterday from his duties abroad with the Alaskan Boundary Commission, reached Washington to-night. He did not go to his hotel immediately on arrival, but went to the White House, where he gave President Roosevelt a history of the boundary commission proceedings.

WARSHIPS LEAVE COLON. May Visit Cartagena—Rumor of a Massacre at Bogota.

Colon, Nov. 8.—Up to to-night no news has been received from Bocas del Toro. The United States cruiser Atlanta sailed for that port last night. The steam launch which was sent to Bocas del Toro on Thursday night to capture that place in the interest of the new republic has not returned.

STUDENT FOUND DEAD. TROOPS MAY BE NEEDED. COMRADE UNCONSCIOUS. ROOT DOUBTS IT, THOUGH.

Body Covered with Bruises—Recently Initiated in Fraternity. Secretary of War Learns Panama News on Arriving Home.

Baltimore, Nov. 8.—The Coroner and police are investigating the peculiar case of Martin Loew, a student at the dental department of the Maryland University, who was found dead in his room at a boarding house in Lexington-st. to-day.

The Celtic arrived on Saturday night, but so late that Captain Lindsay decided to anchor for the night. The Celtic has no wireless instruments on board, and the news of the establishment of the new Republic of Panama and that the United States might become involved in a war with Colombia was not known until the pilot went aboard late on Saturday.

As she came up the bay yesterday morning a salute of nineteen guns was fired by the battery on Governor's Island in honor of Secretary Root's General Corbin and an old met Mr. Root on the pier. As soon as he could Mr. Root went to his home. He declared that he was going from there direct to Washington.

"I did not know a thing regarding the situation on the Isthmus until the newspapers were received on board. Of course, it is manifestly impossible for me to discuss a subject on which I am not informed."

"Such a thing is, of course, possible, but I think in this case it is very improbable."

"On the Alaskan boundary awards the Secretary was not inclined to go into details. The commission had been pretty well discussed, and there is nothing that I care to add, he said."

"The strip of land you mention has been under consideration, but because of the lack of data the boundary line was not determined, but a board of expert surveyors is to be sent out by the government to make the necessary survey. The commission did not settle by compromise, but acted on the facts of the case. Every question was settled by the facts of the case, and there was no attempt made to effect a compromise. The commission was most hospitably received, and if there was any bad feeling on the part of the Canadians over the decision they had nothing about it to me."

"We had had an election here in New-York," he was told.

"Yes, so I see. Of course, I did not know how it had gone until I got here."

"No, the victory of Tammany was not a surprise to me. I think, on the whole, we were doing very well to cut down the vote of last year. That looks well for Republican success next year."

WARSHIPS LEAVE COLON. May Visit Cartagena—Rumor of a Massacre at Bogota.

Colon, Nov. 8.—Up to to-night no news has been received from Bocas del Toro. The United States cruiser Atlanta sailed for that port last night. The steam launch which was sent to Bocas del Toro on Thursday night to capture that place in the interest of the new republic has not returned.

Wild rumors are in circulation here that the American and other foreign residents of Bogota are being massacred. The rumors are not confirmed, and are looked upon as altogether improbable.

Colon gave itself up entirely last night to popular demonstrations. Bands of music paraded the streets until early this morning playing national and American airs, and stopping in front of the residences of Colonel Shaler, Governor Melendez and others. The greatest enthusiasm prevailed and there was not the slightest disorder.

COLOMBIA FILES A PROTEST. STRONG OBJECTION MADE TO THE UNITED STATES' ATTITUDE ON THE ISTHMUS.

Interpretation of the Treaty of 1846 a Ground of Complaint—Nature of the State Department's Reply Not Known.

Washington, Nov. 8.—It was learned in official circles to-night that the United States of Colombia had lodged a protest with the State Department against the action of the United States in connection with the events which have occurred on the Isthmus of Panama.

The attitude of this government is taken to mean that it will protect the new republic of Panama against aggression by any nation, including Colombia. It is understood in Washington that the boundaries of the Republic of Panama will be the same as those of the former Department of Panama in the Republic of Colombia.

General Reyes has been appointed by the Colombian government Peace Commissioner to make such an agreement with the new Republic of Panama that the national honor may be saved.

COLOMBIA AGGRIEVED. REYES AS PEACEMAKER. Protest Made to State Department Regarding Panama.

Washington, Nov. 8.—It was learned in official circles to-night that the United States of Colombia had lodged a protest with the State Department against the action of the United States in connection with the events which have occurred on the Isthmus of Panama.

The State Department has the protest under serious consideration, but the nature of its reply, if any, or the time when it will be made is not known. Other than admitting that such a document had been filed in the State Department, the officials there will say nothing about the matter.

Word reached the Navy Department to-day of the arrival of the United States cruiser Boston at Panama yesterday, Commander Diehl, in reporting her arrival, announcing also the receipt of instructions from the Navy Department which directs the keeping open of the transit of the Isthmus.

The President's yacht, the Mayflower, left the navy yard here to-day for Colon. Aboard her is H. A. Gudger, the United States Consul General at Panama, who goes to that place to assume full charge of the American consular affairs. The Mayflower is expected to reach her destination in about eight days.

Admiral Walker, president of the Isthmian Canal Commission, was also passenger on the Mayflower. Admiral Walker's departure was a considerable surprise, no announcement to this effect having been made heretofore, and the first news of his going to Panama being given out by Secretary Moody when he came from the White House at midnight.

Admiral Walker, it is stated, goes to Panama for the purpose of observing conditions on the ground and reporting to the President on the situation and on any changes that have occurred since the commission made its last report.

REAR ADMIRAL JOSEPH COGHIAN, who is to assume command of the naval forces on the Atlantic side of the Isthmus, and Admiral John G. Walker, president of the Isthmian Canal Commission, were also passengers on the Mayflower.

Admiral Walker's departure was a considerable surprise, no announcement to this effect having been made heretofore, and the first news of his going to Panama being given out by Secretary Moody when he came from the White House at midnight.

Admiral Walker, it is stated, goes to Panama for the purpose of observing conditions on the ground and reporting to the President on the situation and on any changes that have occurred since the commission made its last report.

It is emphasized that there could be only one objective for forces landing on any part of the Isthmus, namely, the populous strip of country which must be preserved as a neutral canal zone.

The arrival of an army anywhere within the territory of Panama could, therefore, be construed only as threatening the peace of the transisthmian highway and the interests of foreigners along the railroad line, and, as such, would be properly prevented by the American forces.

It is believed that the situation has been made so clear to the Marroquin administration by the official communication sent to Minister Beaupré that no excuse can be found by Colombia for attempting hostilities.

Bunau-Varilla has been appointed Minister Plenipotentiary and Envoy Extraordinary to the United States from Panama, according to advices received at the State Department, and he is expected to call on the Secretary of State tomorrow and present his credentials.

Whether Mr. Varilla has been provided also with the "full power" which it is customary to furnish to a minister empowered to negotiate a treaty is not officially known at the department.

Mr. Varilla himself states that he has all the authority necessary for that purpose and that his
