TODAY'S ELECTION IN THE PHILIPPINES

Special to the Herald.
Washington, D. C., July 30.—Today's election in the Philippine Islands marks the first formal step towards Filipino self-government. Naturally enough the administration officials are keenly interested in the conduct and result of the election, which is for the choice of members of the first Philippine Assembly, and for provincial boards, municipal presidents, vice presidents and municipal councilors. All of these officers, with the exception of municipal councilors, are to hold office for two years and to assume their duties upon the first of January next. The municipal councilors are to hold office for four years.

The Philippine Assembly is the result of the promise of President Roosevelt made to the Filipinos through Secretary Taft to give the people of the islands a measure of self-government, conditioned upon their good behavior for a term of two years. The assembly is to be given all the legislative powers heretofore exercised by the Philippine Commission in all that part of the archipelago not inhabited by Moros or non-Christian tribes.

The assembly is to be composed of eighty-one members, apportioned on the basis of one delegate for each 90,000 of population, and provision is made to increase this number, but the total number of delegates cannot exceed one hundred. The body may be compared in a general way to the American House of Representatives, while the Philippine Commission will be the upper house or Senate, and the acts of the assembly must secure the approval of the commission in order to become laws. The first assembly will convene early in October, when Secretary of War Taft will be present to witness the proceedings.

International Jewish Congress.
Special to the Herald.
New York, July 30.—Delegates from all the Jewish organizations in the United States are expected to attend the meeting in Carnegie Hall next October to establish an international Jewish conference. It is proposed to call the body the International Congress of All-Israel. One of the advantages urged is that the congress would be able to act authoritatively in case of oppression or massacre and be entitled to recognition from the czar of Russia or any other ruler. International headquarters probably will be established in London or Paris.

REWARD FOR YOUNG LADY.

Relatives Offer $500 Reward For Recovery of Missing Girl.

A reward of $500 has been offered by Dr. S. O. Hays, of Troupe, for the recovery of Miss Ruth Midyett, who disappeared Monday, July 22.

When last seen she was in the Texas & Pacific station at Shreveport, waiting for a train. She had left her home at Logansport in the morning of the same day, bound for Troupe to visit relatives, and every effort to locate her whereabouts since that time has been of no avail.

She is described as a very handsome girl, refined, and well educated. Dr. Hays was in Marshall Friday in search of information of the missing girl, and while here authorized the offer of the above reward.

Miss Midyett is well known in Marshall, having taught school at Washkom for several sessions, and had visited here.

It was reported once yesterday that she had been seen here, but investigation failed to give any credence to the rumor.

Officers and secret service men have been engaged to work on the case, and relatives of the missing lady will do everything possible to discover her and secure her safe return home.—Marshall Sun.

Michigan Druggists Meet.

Special to the Herald.
Bay City, Mich., July 30.—The 25th annual meeting of the Michigan State Pharmaceutical Association commenced here today. More than one hundred leading druggists from over the state filled the Elks' temple at the opening of the convention this afternoon. Mayor Hine welcomed the visitors and President John L. Wallace of Kalamazoo delivered his annual address. Reports were presented by Secretary E. E. Galkins of Ann Arbor and Treasurer H. G. Spring of Unionville and by the several standing committees. The session also engaged in a discussion of profitable advertising. The meeting will continue over tomorrow.

Illuminating Engineers.

Special to the Herald.
Boston, Mass., July 30.—The first annual convention of the Illuminating Engineering Society of America began in Boston today with an attendance representing all sections of the country. The program of the meeting covers two days, and provides for the discussion of a wide range of subjects relating to the lighting of streets and buildings.

Oregon Tennis Tournament.

Special to the Herald.
Portland, Ore., July 30.—A tennis tournament to decide the championship of Oregon began today on the courts of the Multnomah Club. Many players of prominence are among the entries.

DENTISTS GATHER AT MINNEAPOLIS

Special to the Herald.

Minneapolis, Minn., July 30.—Knights of the forceps, the men who treat aching molars, hundreds of them not only from all parts of the United States but from a number of other countries as well, are to be guests of Minneapolis during the remainder of this week. The occasion is the annual convention of the National Dental Association.

Papers will be read by eminent dentists from France, Switzerland, Germany, Italy and England, and, while the American element predominates, the gathering is of a most cosmopolitan character. Several auditoriums are to be used for the business sessions of the association and for the numerous demonstrations and clinics. The exhibition of dental goods and supplies in connection with the meeting is the largest display of its kind ever seen anywhere.

The officers of the national association who have charge of the convention are:

President—A. H. Peck, Chicago.
First Vice President—D. J. McMillen, Kansas City.
Second Vice President—G. E. H. Indianapolis.

Old-Home Week at Boston.

Special to the Herald.
Boston, Mass., July 30.—The opening of the second day of Boston's Old Home Week celebration found visitors still arriving in the city in large numbers. The program of the day embraced numerous big features, so many, in fact, that it was impossible for any one person to take them all in. From 9 o'clock this morning, the hour set for the big parade and muster of the New England veteran firemen, until the illuminations of the evening, there is not a minute of the entire day unaccounted for in the schedule of events. During the forenoon an official reception in honor of the home-comers was held in Symphony Hall, with addresses of welcome by Governor Guild, Mayor Fitzgerald and other notables. This afternoon the historic frigate Constitution was opened to the reception of visitors at the Charlestown Navy Yard. Throughout the day there were historical pilgrimages, athletic sports, family reunions and other events in the Roxbury, Dorchester, South Boston, Charlestown and other districts of the city.

Stamp Collectors Meet.

Special to the Herald.
Denver, Colo., July 30.—Beginning today and continuing through the rest of this week Denver and vicinity will be the rallying place for hundreds of stamp collectors throughout the country. The occasion is the annual convention of the American Philatelic Association, which began its sessions today. An interesting contest for the presidency of the association is already on, the leading candidates for the place being E. Boehlin of Pittsburgh and J. N. Luff of New York. Not the least attractive feature of the gathering is the elaborate display of valuable collections of rare stamps by dealers and members of the association.

Order of Fraternal Censor.

Special to the Herald.
Cincinnati, O., July 30.—Representatives from fifteen states are attending the supreme council meeting of the Order of the Fraternal Censor, which began a five days' session in this city today. At its present meeting the supreme council will probably take further action along the line of opposition to child labor, and a proposition will be considered for the establishment of a home for the orphans of deceased members.

Grand Circuit Meet.

Special to the Herald.
Cleveland, O., July 30.—The track at Glenville never looked better than it did today at the opening of the Grand Circuit race meeting under the auspices of the Cleveland Driving Park Company. All signs point to one of the best meetings in the history of the club. The meeting is to last four days, instead of five as in previous years. Four races are scheduled daily for three days, while on Thursday five races are carded.

Eleanor Robson Coming Home.

London, July 30.—Miss Eleanor Robson, the young American actress who has scored a decided London success in her engagement just closed, sails for home today on the Carmania. Early in September she will open at the Academy of Music in New York for an engagement of six weeks in "Salomy Jane."

FAIRBANKS FAMILY REUNION AT BOSTON

Special to the Herald.

Boston, Mass., July 30.—Sons and daughters of Jonathan Fairbanks, who emigrated to America in 1633, and settled in Dedham, Mass., in 1636, of whom Vice President Charles Warren Fairbanks is one, held their annual family reunion today. During the day the members of the family, several thousand in number, made a pilgrimage to the old homestead in Dedham, returning to Boston this evening in time to hold a family banquet in Berkeley Temple.

The old homestead at Dedham has been in the possession of the family continuously for 270 years, and the family association, which is incorporated, proposes to raise a fund to preserve it in perpetuity.

There are said to be 5,000 living families who can trace their origin to Jonathan, first American Fairbanks, among whom are 300 civil war veterans.

Among the prominent members of the family, in addition to the vice president of the United States are: Victor A. Metcalf, secretary of the navy.

Arthur L. Bates, member of congress from Pennsylvania.

Josiah Quincy, ex-mayor of Boston.

Andrew S. Draper, state superintendent of instruction of New York.

Milo A. Jewett, United States consul at Sivas, Turkey.

Dr. Albert Shaw, editor of the Review of Reviews.

Countess Margharita de Chraportsky of Russia.

The Marchioness of Donegal, Belfast, Ireland.

Judge Francis J. Wing of Cleveland, Ohio.

Commercial Law League.

Special to the Herald.

Detroit, Mich., July 30.—The large assembly room of the Cadillac Hotel was filled this morning at the opening of the annual convention of the Commercial Law League of America, an organization which, as its name implies, is composed of attorneys who make a specialty of commercial business. The roll call developed the fact that nearly every state and territory was represented, together with most of the provinces of Canada. Mayor Thompson and President Wilkinson of the Detroit Bar Association delivered addresses of welcome and responses were made by Ernest T. Florence of New Orleans, E. C. Ferguson of Chicago, and A. R. McMasters of Montreal.

The remainder of the opening session was occupied with the annual reports of the officers and committees, dealing with the work of the league during the past year and with legislative and other matters in which the league members are especially interested.

The afternoon and evening have been set aside for the entertainment of the delegates and their ladies, no session being held.

Minnesota Municipal League.

Special to the Herald.

Duluth, Minn., July 30.—Few things relating to the management of city affairs and the improvement of municipal conditions in general have been left out of the program prepared for the annual meeting of the Minnesota Municipal and Commercial League. The formal opening of the meeting took place today and the sessions will continue until Friday.

George W. Cooley, secretary of the state highway commission, will speak on the subject of good roads and proper street maintenance. State Senator Thomas E. Cashman will tell the league about the distance tariff law, of which he is the author. Attorney General E. T. Young is another of the scheduled speakers, being down for an address on railroad regulation. F. L. McVey, chairman of the state tax commission, will speak on the subject of taxation. The Galveston and Des Moines plans of city government will also receive the attention of the league.
