SULZER SAYS SUIT BY HOPKINS GIRL IS PLAIN BLACKMAIL

Knew Her, Helped Her Family, but Never Promised to Wed Her, He Says.

GETTYSBURG, Pa., July 2.—Gov. Sulzer this afternoon issued an interview in connection with the suit for breach of promise filed against him in Philadelphia yesterday.

The interview follows:

"Yes," said Gov. Sulzer to-day at Gettysburg. "I read about the Hopkins frame-up in Philadelphia. There is nothing to it that I am afraid of. The whole thing looks like a poor conspiracy and seems to be stale and fishy."

"The fact is the suit of this woman Hopkins is blackmail," went on the Governor. "and more, it is instigated by my political enemies and is a part of the plot of Boss Murphy and his political conspirators to discredit me because they cannot use me for their nefarious schemes to loot the State of New York."

"If I were willing to be Murphy's kind of Governor no one would have heard of this and other matters he is using about me. That goes without saying, but because I am fighting graft, fighting for good government and fighting for direct nominations, Mr. Murphy and his henchmen are doing everything in their power to destroy me politically. They have been threatening me ever since I became Governor because I would not be a tool and a proxy Governor."

"I defied them all to do their worst. Their efforts to injure me with honest people will be abortive. I shall go forward without fear, come what may. I never did a thing in my life of which I am ashamed."

" suffice it to say," said the Governor in conclusion, "that I know this Hopkins woman years ago. I was a friend of her family in their distress, but I deny emphatically that I ever agreed to marry her, that I ever wronged her, that I ever lived with her or that I ever held her out to be my wife."

MISS HOPKINS LEAVES HOME IN PHILADELPHIA

(Special to The Evening World.) PHILADELPHIA, July 2.—Miss Mignon Hopkins, the sales lady who asks money damages from Gov. William Sulzer, as a girl, has mysteriously left the city.

One Philadelphia paper has a statement from the young woman given as she was boarding a Broad street train headed for Atlantic City. She was asked if the William Sulzer she is suing is the Governor of New York.

"Why, of course he is. He is the man I was so crazy about. Billie wooed me and then married another."

What is regarded by politicians as most significant is the connection of Theodore Cuyler Patterson, an eminent attorney, who is not known in such practice here, with an alienation action. Mr. Patterson has left town, but before departing he conveniently left Miss Hopkins a sensational affidavit at his offices with instructions to his secretary to give copies to each newspaperman who called. So far Patterson has evaded reporters.

Patterson is a brother of C. Stuart Patterson, a director of the Pennsylvania Railroad. The railroad magnate and Johnny Murphy, the late brother of the Tammany boss, were intimate personal friends and business allies. It was Murphy's firm which did the $200,000 excavating work for the Pennsylvania's depot in Manhattan.

Patterson was not attorney for Miss

U. S. BATTLESHIP LOUISIANA BEACHED NEAR NARRAGANSETT

NEWPORT, July 2.—The battleship Louisiana, commanded by Capt. Temple M. Latta, was beached on the east side of Conanicut Island in Narragansett Bay this afternoon.

An accident to the propulsion valve caused the engine room to fill with water and the battleship was run onto beach to keep her from sinking.

Admiral Charles J. Badger, Commander-in-Chief of the Atlantic fleet, immediately despatched all available tugboats and launches to the assistance of the battleship. The extent of the damage to the battleship is not known.

NATIONAL LEAGUE

(Special to The Evening World.) PHILADELPHIA, July 2.—As the Giants and Phillies struggled through the terrific heat into battle formation to-day President Lynch of the National League appeared on the scene and immediately began taking testimony bearing on the altercation in which McGraw was banished by Ad Brennan of the Phillies.

Lynch talked with both Brennan and McGraw, but hurried back to New York without letting anyone know what had been told him.

The Giant manager has shown no disposition to see anyone punished and he suggested to Lynch that the matter be allowed to drop so far as he was concerned. He told the President, however, that he was attacked without warning.

Lynch, it is understood, also made inquiries concerning the remarks that were passed between McGraw and the Philly bench during the now famous

POLO GROUNDS

(Special to The Evening World.) PHILADELPHIA, July 2.—Showers shortly before game time this afternoon delayed the start of the third encounter between the Highlanders and Athletics. Because of the inclement weather about 1,500 fans, the smallest crowd of the season, were on hand.

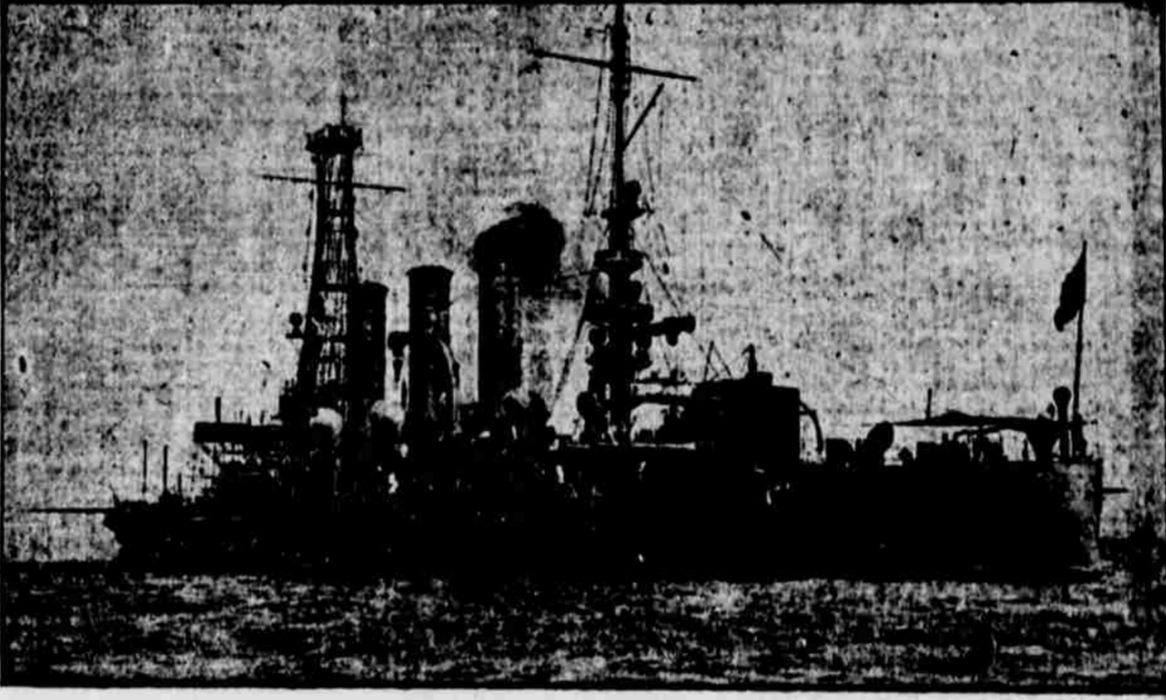

Manager Chance trotted out Russell Ford, his one best bet for the pitching job, and Connie Mack came right back with Indian Bender. The rain hardly laid the dust on the diamond, and both teams got into action ten minutes after the regular time of starting.

FIRST INNING—E. Murphy hit the first ball pitched to right for a single. O'Kirk sacrificed. Borton to Hartzell, who covered the base, Murphy going to second. Collins out. Hartzell to Borton. Murphy goes to third. Baker died on a grounder to Borton. Unassisted. No Runs. One Left.

Daniels died. Barry to McInnis. Wolter shot a single over second. Cree lined out to Strunk. Sweeney angled against the right field wall and sent Wolter to third. Hartzell sent an easy fly to Oldring.

LAMAR CHARGES U. P. ROAD WITH $82,000,000 JOB

Speculator Admits to Lobby Hunters He Phoned in Name of Congressmen.

WASHINGTON, July 2.—David Lamar, Wall street operator and one time confidante of Russell Sage, James H. Keene and other financiers, amazed the Senate Lobby Committee to-day by amply and frankly testifying it was he who impregnated Representatives Palmer and Hurd in telephone conversations with Lewis Cass Ledyard, Paul D. Cravath, Chairman Robert S. Lovett of the Union Pacific Board and other prominent financiers, telling them that Edward Lauterbach, a New York lawyer, could do great things for them in Washington.

Lamar also astonished the committee by making a detailed charge that the Union Pacific Railroad's books had been forged in 1901 on an item covering $2,000,000 and that as a result Kuhn, Loeb & Company and the late E. H. Harriman had laid the foundations of gigantic fortunes.

When Lamar had finished Paul D. Cravath of counsel for the Union Pacific, put in a prepared statement to the committee alleging that Lamar's charge concerning the $2,000,000—which amount is connected with the Union Pacific surplus—was part of a bear campaign to depress Union Pacific stock, of which the railroad's officials have had knowledge for several days.

Lamar amused, entertained and astounded the committee as he freely testified as to his impersonation of Congressmen over the telephone. He did it all, he said, to impress the financiers with the abilities of his friend Edward Lauterbach, but he stoutly denied there was ever any mention of money.

In 1907, Lamar said, Russell Sage authorized him to proceed to compel the Union Pacific to pay the government $2,000,000 in bonds owing it. Lamar, with Senator Foraker, came to Washington and conferred with President McKinley.

DIDN'T MIND BEING CALLED A BLACKMAILER

"We were charged with being a pair of conscienceless blackmailers," said Lamar, "but that had no effect on us." When Sage retired from business in 1907, Lamar said, he had a conversation with Senator Foraker and President McKinley.

"I have been keeping company with a Miss Costello," said Beck, breaking down and sobbing. "She's a good girl and knew absolutely nothing about this matter."

At the conclusion of his confession Beck was taken before Chief Magistrate McAdoo who held him without bail in the custody of the police. He will be questioned further to-morrow.

"Mr. Kirby is innocent," said F. Oliver Udall and F. William Barham Jr., members of the firm.

Young Beck First Declares Manager Planned Sensational Robbery, but Wilts When Confronted by Man Accused.

$100,000 IN JEWELS FOUND AT PENNSYLVANIA STATION

Clerk Says He Knew Combination—Hid in Cellar and Had No Trouble Gathering Jewels.

William Beck, the twenty-one-year-old clerk who stole nearly $100,000 worth of jewelry from his employers, Udell & Ballou at No. 374 Fifth avenue, last Friday evening, and checked the loot in a traveling bag at the Pennsylvania station, Thirty-third street and Seventh avenue, made a complete confession at Police Headquarters this afternoon. He was questioned by Deputy Commissioner Dougherty and his former employers. His statement furnishes a complete exoneration of Henry Kirby, sales manager of the store, whom he had accused of complicity in an earlier confession.

"I planned it and executed it all alone," said Beck. "I thought I could get away with it. I was in debt and needed money. My liking for silk shirts, fine underwear and good clothes couldn't be satisfied on my salary of $14 a week."

"I had been stealing from the firm for some time. I stole platinum and gold from the repair room. The diamond ring I am wearing I stole from the firm and said I bought it from a pawnshop cheap. But I couldn't stand enough and I conceived the idea of getting away with the contents of one of the safes."

"One of the employees unsuspectingly gave me the combination to the months ago. I remembered that, and it often occurred to me how easy it would be to open the safe and rob it."

"I laid my plans carefully. Getting the traveling bag into the store was part of the plot. Last Friday everything was favorable and I made a bluff at going home shortly before 6 o'clock. Everybody thought I had gone, but I hid under the cellar stairway. I remained there until I heard the bell sound showing that the Home Protective electric signal was in operation and that Mr. Kirby had left the building."

"Nobody noticed me when I went to the front of the store, opened the safe and took out the trays and carried them back to Mr. Udell's private office. There I emptied the jewels in the bag. I took the trays down to the cellar, and about 7:30 o'clock I left the store, walking out of the front door. I went at once to the Pennsylvania Station, checked the grip and then went home. 'I knew there would be a great uproar about the case, so I mailed the check for the bag to myself at General Delivery and decided to leave the bag in the parcel room until the excitement blew over. It looked pretty simple to me. But I was too sick to go to the store Saturday and that was a bad break, as I see now, because it attracted attention to me and to the traveling bag, which had disappeared. I had told too many people about that bag."

GOT SCARED AND ESCAPED FROM HEADQUARTERS

"When the detectives brought me down to Headquarters I got scared. I knew I had been caught in the act, and I jumped out the window and slipped as soon as the detectives' backs were turned. But I couldn't go and get the suitcase that night, because the check was in General Delivery, and I was afraid to go the next day."

"Was there any girl in this?" asked Dougherty. "Were you thinking of getting married?"

"I have been keeping company with a Miss Costello," said Beck, breaking down and sobbing. "She's a good girl and knew absolutely nothing about this matter."

At the conclusion of his confession Beck was taken before Chief Magistrate McAdoo who held him without bail in the custody of the police. He will be questioned further to-morrow.

"Mr. Kirby is innocent," said F. Oliver Udall and F. William Barham Jr., members of the firm.

Commissioner Dougherty, after questioning Beck for nearly an hour this afternoon, made the following statement:

"Let me make it clear that Mr. Kirby is not under arrest. The boy exonerates him without reserve."

"Young Beck lied in his first statements. He is lying now on important details. He made two statements implicating Mr. Kirby. When we called Mr. Kirby in to confront him in the presence of Mr. Udall and Mr. Barham he shook Mr. Kirby's hand and said: 'Mr. Kirby, I want to be a man. What I said about you was all a lie. I did it all myself.'"

"With that the boy broke down and began to cry. I don't want to hassle him, so I sent out for something for him to eat and will let him alone until he becomes more composed. He certainly is an accomplished and versatile liar."

DOUGHERTY SUMMONED KIRBY TO HEADQUARTERS

When it became known at Police Headquarters this morning that Beck had accused Mr. Kirby of engineering the robbery Mr. Dougherty telephoned to the sales manager and asked him to hurry to Headquarters. Mr. Kirby, so perturbed and smiling, soon appeared.

Commissioner Dougherty did not learn until noon that Beck was in custody in the Burns office in the Woodworth Building. He immediately sent Capt. Tunney of the Detective Bureau and Lieut. Bushy, Fogarty, O'Connell and Flinn to take charge of Beck, who has been on the police had books ever since he escaped from Headquarters, where he was a sort of guest last Monday afternoon.

Tunney and his men were held off by the Burns people, and at 1 o'clock Dougherty sent Lieut. Cassano to the Burns office with instructions to bring Beck and the whole Burns establishment if necessary. When Cassano arrived there Tunney had been given the custody of Beck, and the boy was hustled up to Headquarters.

THE BURNS AGENCY WAS ACTING FOR LLOYDS OF LONDON

The Burns agency was acting for Lloyd's of London, which carried a $200,000 burglary insurance policy covering the Udell & Ballou stock. When young Beck made a preliminary confession to the Burns people at 8 o'clock this morning, he said he had checked the suitcase containing the jewels in the parcel room of the Pennsylvania station and mailed the check to himself at General Delivery. Burns operatives recovered the check at 10 o'clock and were on their way to the Pennsylvania station when word reached them that Police Department detectives had already located the suitcase and the loot and were taking it to Headquarters.

It was a very nasty and rather jaunty boy that sat opposite Assistant District Attorney McAlle in Burns's private office and told the story of how he had been in one of the greatest jewel robberies in the history of the city. He wore the same blue serge suit he had on when he took the flying leap from the window of Police Headquarters at 5 o'clock on Monday; it was neatly pressed down Beck's statement that he had
