TUESDAY, SEPTEMBER 12, 1905.

The Mikado is playing in tough luck when he finds that the glories of victory have made his throne as uncomfortable as the Caesar's.

But just think of a man who keeps his own children in a private school for "convenience" accusing other people of doing the same thing to secure social standing.—Advertiser.

Such a phantasmagoric think could only originate in the disgruntled and disappointed brain of the Advertiser.

When a man starts out as Pond did to voluntarily have his herd purified and assure absolute safety for his patrons, it's rather tough to wind up in a maze of law and excitement. Meanwhile other herds are likely to be forgotten, and the man with philanthropic purposes loses the money and gets all the experience.

JAPAN'S MILITARY SPIRIT

From the more complete telegraphic reports of the mainland, it is plain that the protest of the Japanese against the peace made at Portsmouth is more than isolated outbursts of a few radicals and irresponsibles. Captain Saunders of the steamer Manchuria was not so far astray from the true conditions of Japan when he suggested in an interview with the Bulletin that civil war might be the next item on the program of that country.

The riots have been wide spread and the outside world knows enough of Japan's ability to censor news to realize that not half has been told. The experience of the war is that it is safer to depend on the truth of war rumor than the censored official dispatch.

One of the most interesting and instructive features of this revolutionary spirit will be the awakening it will bring about among the American people who have for a brief period idolized the Japanese and his docile way of being a well behaved youth. The awakening to which the Americans treated the ancient Japanese will be a very insignificant affair compared with the awakening to which the Japanese will treat the Americans. A great many idols will fall and impressions change.

One of the first to be shattered is that the Japanese subject has nothing more to say when the Emperor speaks. Another is that Japan has no future program of aggrandizement and domination to be forced by the arts of war rather than peace.

THURSTON AND THE ALIENS.

Between Judge Highdon's views on the education of the Japanese and Chinese, and the editor's promotion of the business of the Japanese physicians, Thurston's Advertiser is boxing the corners of alien domination and un-American prejudice like a child that has lost its bearings.

This would be mystifying if the lack of worthy character possessed by Mr. Thurston's paper were not so well understood in Hawaii. In order however that he may be set right before the community, and explain the inquiries which his alleged "policy" inspires, the Bulletin propounds the following questions for answer by

County Warrant Muddle

County Attorney Douthitt wants to know where Treasurer Trent stands in the matter of the controversy over the manner of drawing and paying County warrants, and Trent with an equal yearning for knowledge wants to know where Douthitt stands. It is believed that correspondence has passed on this subject between the gentlemen.

An exclusively reported by the Bulletin yesterday, it has been discovered that a resolution passed by the Board of Supervisors prohibits what the Supervisors later wanted Trent to do, namely, to cash "blanket warrants."

Now it is said that the forgotten test case prepared by County Attorney Douthitt but not agreed to by Trent's counsel, may be resurrected. Again, when the Supervisors next meet—and the date of meeting has been changed from tomorrow to Monday night next at 7:30—the original resolution prohibiting blanket warrants may be rescinded or all test cases withdrawn and the resolution lived up to.

Incidentally, the resolution prohibiting blanket warrants was suggested by the Treasurer. The resolution, duly adopted, has apparently been forgotten.

HARDY MANDAMUS CASE

The Supreme Court this morning heard argument from both sides in the matter of the mandamus and writ of prohibition which were brought by D. Kaneali, the Kauai supervisor who is charged with forging the signatures on his nomination papers, against Judge Hardy, who refused to accept his bond.

Secretary Jack Atkinson is today celebrating his birthday. In spite of strenuous reports to the contrary Jack maintains that this is his thirty-fourth and not his thirty-fifth, so that he has still a year to wait before he reaches the limit fixed for the governorship.

MISS ANNA HOCH, SPONSOR OF THE BATTLESHIP KANSAS.

Miss Anna Hoch, chosen to break a bottle of champagne over the prow of the splendid new battleship Kansas, is the youngest daughter of Governor Edward W. Hoch of the Sunflower State. Miss Hoch is one of the typical native beauties of the prairie commonwealth over which her father presides. The use of champagne for the christening was hotly contested, for Kansas is a prohibition state, but the shipbuilders insisted. Governor Hoch himself proposed crude oil, but that had too much of a Rockefeller flavor.

A Band Of Missionaries Aboard China For The Far East

LINER PASSES THROUGH BUFORD BOUND HITHER

SAILS AT 9 O'CLOCK TOMORROW MORNING—BIG THROUGH LIST—SOME PASSING NOTABLES.

The Pacific Mail steamship China, Captain Friele, was reported off Koko Head from San Francisco at 8 o'clock this morning, docking shortly after 9:30 o'clock at the Channel wharf. She sailed from San Francisco on September 6, Wednesday, at 1 p. m.

The China is scheduled to get away for the Orient at 9 a. m. tomorrow. About thirty missionaries are included in the through passenger list. The local congregation of the Christian church is today entertaining some of the party. Many of them have attended the San Francisco convention and are now en route to their stations in Japan, India and China.

At 7:30 o'clock this evening a conference will be held in the Alakea street church.

Several Catholic priests are also on their way to the Orient. Mrs. J. H. Wallace and child, the family of former Chief Engineer Wallace of the Panama Canal, who resigned to accept a big salary with a New York business institution, are journeying to Hongkong.

Honolulu folks returning from the Coast include W. Matlock Campbell, S. H. Derby, S. Kellinot, O. St. John Gilbert, Emil Layman, Miss L. M. Layman and Miss M. Layman.

More than a hundred cabin passengers are aboard the China, the list including G. B. Perkins and wife, who are en route to Japan for a pleasure trip. Perkins is a son-in-law of H. E. Huntington. T. E. Gibbon of the law department of the Salt Lake and Los Angeles Railway, is going to Japan on a business trip. M. Terano of the Toyo Kisen Kaisha Steamship Company is bound for Yokohama. He has been in San Francisco for several weeks looking after the business of his company, soon to resume operations between Japan and the Coast. In the steerage of the China are about 100 Chinese and twenty-five Japanese.

Night before last the China passed the U. S. A. transport Buford bound for this port and expected tomorrow for Thursday morning. A bark and a two-masted schooner were also sighted. The China experienced a pleasant-weather trip. On Sunday the numerous church men and women aboard held divine services for the benefit of the crew and passengers.

JUDGES MAY DECIDE (Continued from Page 1.) without much delay instead of waiting for the January term. Section 1945 of the Revised Laws states as follows: "Any circuit judge may, with the written approval of the chief justice, appoint special terms of his court, at other times, whenever he shall deem it essential to the promotion of justice."

FIRST AND THIRD CLASS YACHTS WILL RACE
The Regatta Committee has offered two prizes for local yachts for races to be sailed on Regatta Day. At a meeting of the Yacht Club held at Com. H. E. Picker's office this noon the Pearl Harbor course was decided upon after a lengthy discussion. Mr. Walker argued in favor of the Waikiki course, claiming that it was much better for the public to witness a race over this course and that in event of accident to any of the boats they could easily be picked up by a tug. Others claimed that the Pearl Harbor course was better as it called for a wider variety of sailing and brought out the finer points of the boats. It was finally brought to a vote and the following course decided upon:
From a line running from the Heanani Boat House to the lighthouse as the start, to round spar buoy and bell buoy keeping on the port side, thence to the outside spar buoy at Pearl Harbor rounding same and keeping to the starboard to the mouth of the Honolulu harbor, finishing at the outer spar buoy.
The following yachts with handicaps have been entered in the first class race: Kapelei, Vice-Com. Geo. F. Renton, and the Hawaii, Sorenson & Lyle, scotch; Spray, Com. H. E. Picker, 30 minutes.
Six boats have been entered in the third class race, which will prove to be the most interesting of the two. There is great rivalry existing between Sorenson & Lyle with their new boat Maggie and the Deffance, owned by the Walkers. The two boats will start scratch. The Myrtle, Irish, Princess and Malolo will each receive 17 minutes handicap.
Judge Robinson this morning granted libellant a decree of divorce in the suit of Fannie McCandless Olsen vs. Joseph Olsen on the grounds of desertion and failure to provide. The libellant was given permission to resume her maiden name. Judgement was entered against the libellee in the sum of $75 for attorney's fees. J. W. Cathart appeared for libellant.
Judge Lindsay this morning sustained the demurrer and dissolved the injunction in the case of Koolau Mallo et al. vs. J. O. Carter et al. The ejectment matter was set for trial next Thursday to follow the hearing of the Holt Estate matter.
The Oahu County Board of Supervisors meet Monday next at 7:30 p. m. to approve road department pay rolls that the employees may be paid for half a month, instead of having to wait until the end of the month.
