

Showering Wedding Confetti from Battleship : Friends' Playground : Views Far and Near

A NAVY WEDDING at League Island. Lieutenant Samuel N. Moore, of Washington, and Mrs. Moore, nee Marie Julia Renck, of 5737 Hunter avenue, Philadelphia, leaving the battleship Michigan after the marriage ceremony had been performed on shipboard, by Chaplain D. Horton, yesterday afternoon. The wedding was originally scheduled for June 15, but was advanced to yesterday, when Lieutenant Moore received orders assigning him to another ship.

JOYS of the sliding board, at the opening of the Friends' Neighborhood Guild playground, Fourth and Green streets, yesterday. Smaller children may exercise on the swings, slides and see-saws in the afternoons. In the evenings the older boys will get their chance.

HANK GOWDY, late of the A. E. F., enthroned on the gift presented to him by his fellow players on the Boston Braves. Hank was the first big leaguer to enlist and on his return from overseas he was duly honored by players and fans.

SUMMER SUNS do not cause the fair wearer to forsake the furs she has become so attached to. This cape is natural squirrel, very light in weight, but an ample protection against chill night airs.

EVOLVING an intricate move that will surely jump two to a kingship. Youthful players at the Neighborhood Guild's playground for children of the Northern Liberties district.

SECRETARY OF the Navy Daniels and Secretary of War Baker inspecting a German U-Boat at Washington, that had been tearing the Atlantic ports in the interests of the recent Victory Loan campaign.

UNITED STATES congressmen, escorted by army officers, climbing up Vauquois hill, near Varennes, France, on their recent tour of the battlefields where our fighters made history.