MORE COUNTRIES DRIFTING TOWARD WAR.

It would not be a source of surprise if Switzerland, Holland and all the Balkan states were to join the allies. And even the Scandinavian countries may yet get in on the side fighting against the Teutons.

The world sees the possibility of frightfulness being carried so far as to overawe and threaten in every direction and, though that may be only a wild dream, the thought alarms.

The Lusitania affair has had its effect and there is a dread of what might happen, if an empire resorting to terrorism were to gain a world mastery.

NOW KITCHENER IS THE SCAPEGOAT.

England continues to display great disappointment in the progress of the war. The ministerial crisis has disclosed a wide-spread absence of confidence in the men entrusted with the defense of the empire. Even Earl Kitchener, the hero of Khartoum and the pride of the army, has lost his halo and is being lampooned by the great London dailies as incapable of meeting the requirements of the present conflict.

For years English papers have pictured Kitchener as the greatest general of modern times and the story has been told how even Emperor William had said, if he were to have the choice of army leaders, he would select Kitchener.

Today the Daily Mail hints that Kitchener's blunders have brought on the cabinet crisis; and says that the head of the empire's armed forces lacks in strategy equal to the demands of the European campaign; that Kitchener had the British guns served with antiquated shells, and, furthermore, that Kitchener as a fighting general in South Africa proved he was not brilliant.

The Standard has said that these outbursts of criticism of the British government indicate disappointment in the conduct of the war and a serious internal condition which so far has been partially concealed from the outside world, and today we have further proof of that distrust.

England is having a spell of nerves, and the men who are doing most to save the country from a national calamity are doubly burdened with public condemnation.

Asquith, Churchill and Kitchener are the least blamable for England's shortcomings. The present weakness is the natural sequence to an industrialism which built great factory centers in which men, women and children were fed into a commercial hopper and came out physically and mentally less fit to sustain a nation in its hour of peril.

ITALY CANNOT BACK DOWN.

Italy is committed to war. On May 4, the Italian government denounced the Triple Alliance and yesterday parliament conferred full power upon the government to make war. Those two acts constitute a rupture with Germany and Austria-Hungary and will be resented by Berlin and Vienna. The German papers term Italy's course perfidy and the Austrians are preparing to resist an Italian attack. Italy cannot retrace the steps taken and must go forward to war. That is the inevitable, if Italy is to save her face. Her attitude is highly offensive to Germany and, if the Kaiser were to be victorious, one of the first nations to feel the heavy heel of the militarism of the Teutonic empire would be Italy.

With 1,200,000 men in the field, Italy would be of great aid to the allies at this time, when the Russian offensive has been destroyed and the German forces on the eastern battle front are about to be released, again to strike at the west.

The Italian menace in the Alps would keep Austria so thoroughly engaged that no large bodies of Germans could be released from the Russian frontier where Austro-German forces have been battling.

STRANGE PEOPLE IN THE WAR ZONE.

Describing the Letts, a people in the Baltic provinces of Russia where the war is now being extended by the Germans, a bulletin from the National Geographic society says they are a branch of the Lithuanian nation whose past in the marshy swamps of Lithuania lies as deeply hidden as the mystic ritual of the Druids.

The Lett is taciturn, morose, little given to welcoming the stranger. He dwells apart, not as the communistic Russian in villages whose houses closely press one another. The Lett preserves his own tongue, traditions and dreams, and remains in this twentieth century more than half a worshipper of nature and a believer in omens and black craft. The old gods whom he cherished and revered the longest, whom he sought long after Europe all around him had accepted the teachings of Christ, still exert an influence upon him, still survive for him in a thousand superstitions, even though he is as devout as any of the other present-day Christians.

The Lett was Christianized by the sword wielded in the hands of the Germans and the Swedes. Shortly after the year 1200, a religious order, known as the Order of the Sword Bearers, was formed, and began the process of converting the inhabitants of the Baltic provinces. Members of the order wore white mantles with a red cross on the shoulder. They were recruited largely in Westphalia and Saxony, and, with their superior weapons, they had little difficulty in overrunning the Lett provinces. The Letts were dispossessed of the land; German landlords and merchants came; outposts of the Hanseatic league were strengthened, and the Lett sank into serfdom.

OGDEN AS A PLACE FOR INVESTMENT.

An Ogdener, who is visiting Chicago, sends the Standard the following, clipped from the Chicago Examiner, on which is the marginal note, "This story will apply to Ogden." "One Saturday night, about twelve years ago, two working people—a man and his wife—visiting one of Chicago's outlying banks. Timorously, they inquired whether they could start a saving account with so small a sum as one dollar. Being assured that this was not only possible, but that their account would be welcomed, they hastened to exchange their dollar for a dollar credit in a bank book, and departed. As regularly thereafter as Saturday night rolled around this thrifty pair were in line before the receiving teller's window. Gradually the size of their deposits increased, as the habit of thrift grew. And it was not many months before their total deposits ran into three figures. Then was the move made about which this story centers. A good chance to make a small real estate investment came to the couple who had saved. Together they consulted with the president of their bank, who gave them his best judgment and advice. The investment was made, as a result—an in-

LIBERTY BELL AND OLD INDEPENDENCE HALL

To the Editor: At mention of those names what emotions start into being? Liberty Bell is America's holy grail! It is the visible oracle that links the present with the sacred past! It has defied the tooth of time and the mutation of factional strife! It reminds us of obligations to the men who laid the foundations of a nation whose flag is the silent expression of sympathy for stricken peoples now plunged in a suicidal war, where hungry children and helpless women are submerged in the ashes of despair, and whose night of sorrow portends no morning of deliverance.

Freckle-Face

Sun and Wind Bring Out Ugly Spots. How to Remove Easily. Here's a chance, Miss Freckle-face, to try a remedy for freckles with the guarantee of a reliable dealer that it will not cost you a penny unless it removes the freckles; while if it does give you a clear complexion the expense is trifling. Simply get an ounce of othine—double strength—from any druggist and a few applications should show you how easy it is to rid yourself of the homely freckles and get a beautiful complexion. Rarely is more than one ounce needed for the worst case. Be sure to ask the druggist for the double strength othine as this is the prescription sold under guarantee of money back if it fails to remove freckles.—Advertisement.

WAR MATERIAL IS GOING TO ITALY

New York, May 21.—Large orders for military stores and foodstuffs for Italy were reported to be in the market here today, despite the fact that for months the Italian government has been drawing supplies from the United States in anticipation of hostilities. Shipments of coal and wheat from this country to Italy in the last few weeks have been extensive, it is said. Many shipments of horses for use in the Italian army were reported to have been made and an order for 5000 more horses is understood to be awaiting acceptance.

LOOKING DOWN THROAT OF A 12-INCH GUN

Mrs. Greenvile F. Waterbury looking into one of Wyoming's 12 inch guns. Many prominent members of the Navy league together with their friends recently visited the big battleship Wyoming, anchored in the Hudson river. Quite a few of the gentler sex had the mechanism of the big guns demonstrated to them, and Mrs. Greenvile F. Waterbury, New York social leader, had a special desire to see "how those 12-inch guns looked on the inside."

FLORIDA'S MASCOT MARCHES IN PARADE

Not the least interesting figure in the big naval parade in New York City Monday was "Dynamite," the mascot of the battleship Florida, who is here seen ready to form in line and accompany the men. President Wilson was greatly amused by the goat.

JOINT INTEREST GRANTED.

Washington, May 21.—Continued joint interest by the Pennsylvania and Canadian Pacific railroads in, and operation of, the Pennsylvania and Ontario Transportation company, which runs a car ferry from Ashtabula, Ohio, to Port Burwell, Canada, was authorized today by the interstate commerce commission in contravention of the Panama canal act.

The DOCTOR'S ADVICE by Dr. Lewis Baker

The questions answered below are general in character, the symptoms or diseases are given and the answers will apply in any case of similar nature. Those wishing further advice, free may address Dr. Lewis Baker, College Bldg., College-Elwood, St. Dayton, O., enclosing self-addressed stamped envelope for reply. Full name, and address must be given, but only initials or fictitious name will be used in my answers. The prescriptions can be filled at any well-stocked drug store. Any druggist can order of wholesaler.

"Miser" writes: "I have been a worn out man for the past few months. I am only 37 years old, but feel more like a man of 60. My physical and mental forces are much impaired. I do not seem to be able to think clearly. I am much depressed in mind and my usual ambition and energy seem to have died. I have headache and pains in my back."

Answer: Your condition is identical to thousands of others brought to my attention yearly. Yes, your physical and mental forces are, as you say, much impaired, but you need not be alarmed over your condition. The use of three grains of iodine tablets should soon put you back in normal condition and fit to combat any troubles. Cultivate regular habits of living.

"Mite" asks: "I seem to be shrinking in size. I am very pale and thin. I do not feel strong, but I'm very weak. I want to increase my weight."

Answer: You are anemic and the food you eat does not properly nourish your system; three grain hypo-nucleate tablets cause proper food assimilation and increase weight and strength. Take them with your meals. Sold in sealed packages.

"Mrs. Ella M." writes: "Please prescribe for me again. This time for my back, I have chills and fever. I feel urine is normal, but my eyes and feet are dark in color and of bad odor. Sometimes my back hurts."

Answer: You may have a severe case of kidney trouble. You should use a few grains of instant relief and permanent benefit from the use of three grains of iodine tablets. Most druggists carry these tablets and they are in sealed tubes with proper directions.

"Mrs. W." asks: "What can I do for a long continued case of constipation? I have headache and dizziness and my sleep is so shallow. At night I cannot get to sleep. At night I can't sleep. Please tell me what to do."

Answer: Continued constipation affects the blood and makes it impure. You need a good blood purifier and laxative. Use three grain sulphur tablets (the bowels and clean and purify the blood).

"E. F. E." writes: "I have a very severe case of dandruff. My scalp itches and my hair is coming out in handfuls. Please tell me what to do."

Answer: Get a jar of plain yellow and white still wet, rub well into the scalp (the plain yellow only). Rinse out and active. Repeat this treatment three or four times after washing, and in a few weeks all your dandruff should disappear and your hair become healthy and soft.

"Corrupt" asks: "What will overcome my constipation? I am so fat as to be unable to stand exercise."

Answer: To reduce safely, use five most reliable reducers I could prescribe. Many are pleased with results from arboline.
