

The Salt Lake Tribune.

SALT LAKE CITY, SATURDAY MORNING, SEPTEMBER 13, 1913.

AUTUMN MODES

The new "Nun's Headress," the "Eiffel Tower" plumes and other Paris fashions will be discussed in Sunday's Tribune by Lady Duff-Gordon.

16 PAGES—FIVE CENTS

MISS ELEANOR WILSON, daughter of president, who plays principal role in pastoral masque in the open air.

PLAYS STAR ROLE IN PASTORAL MASQUE

President's Youngest Daughter, Eleanor, Surprises Her Father and Friends.

MERIDEN, N. H., Sept. 12.—President Wilson sat in a grove of pine trees tonight and saw his youngest daughter, Miss Eleanor, play the star role in a pastoral masque symbolizing the protest of the naturalist against the slaughter of birds for military purposes.

With a dramatic skill which surprised her closest friends, as it was her first attempt, Miss Wilson voiced in soft and appealing tones the spirit of the bird-lover exhorting the hunter to forsake his rifle.

The sharp crack of a gun, followed by the sudden fall of "Ornitho, the bird spirit," Miss Wilson's role, marked the climax of the piece. Wounded and sobbing, "Ornitho" is consoled by the faun, poet, dramatist and naturalist, who dissuade the repentant plume hunter and make him a bird-lover. The president's daughter spoke her lines with careful expression and was enthusiastically applauded.

The setting was both unique and picturesque. Those in the audience composed entirely of artists, poets, playwrights and literary folk from Cornish and the surrounding hills, were costumed in vari-colored gowns and coats and sat on rough wooden benches fixed on the slope of a hill, at the foot of which was the stage. This was marked by logs behind which colored footlights threw a shadowy light on the enraptured pines. Bird whistles and the incidental strains of an orchestra concealed in the trees and an occasional dance by the players lightened the piece, which was written by Percy Mackaye.

As a prelude to the performance, Miss Wilson sang "The Bird Song."

(Continued on Page Two.)

NEW HAMPSHIRE GOVERNOR WILL GRANT HEARING

Attorneys for Harry K. Thaw Notified That No Action Will Be Taken Until After the Case Is Argued.

BOTH SIDES APPEAR TO FEAR KIDNAPING

Fugitive Asks for Auto Ride, but Jerome Refuses Consent; Detectives Swarm Streets of Colebrook.

BY International News Service.
COLEBROOK, N. H., Sept. 12.—Harry K. Thaw will be physically nearer but legally further away from Matteawan tomorrow night. The noted fugitive will probably sleep either in Concord or in Lancaster tomorrow if plans made late this afternoon mature. Concord, the state capital, is 150 miles nearer Matteawan and Lancaster, Coos county's shire seat, is thirty-five miles due south of Colebrook.

"I shall remain Thaw either to Concord or Lancaster, probably the former," said Magistrate James T. Carr today. "He will be taken either by motor or on the afternoon train tomorrow."

The fugitive and his leading attorneys, ex-Governor William A. Stone of Pennsylvania and Moses L. Grossman of New York, were notified today by Governor Feltner that he will grant a hearing at the executive mansion in Concord before he signs the warrant for Thaw's deportation.

Extradition papers and a request for immediate action by Acting Governor Glynn of New York will be placed in the hands of Governor Feltner tomorrow by Sheriff Hornbeck of Dutchess county. It was feared by Thaw's attorneys that the governor of New Hampshire would immediately sign the warrant and Thaw would be in the clutches of William Travers Jerome and on his way to Matteawan before they could procure a legal stay.

Will Be Deliberate.

Governor Feltner, however, notified Messrs. Grossman and Stone that he would take no precipitate action, but would give them an opportunity to argue against the extradition of their client.

"This means that Jerome's bluff has been called and that New Hampshire will give Harry Thaw a square deal," jubilantly said Mr. Grossman this evening. "Governor Feltner will probably set the middle of next week as the date of the hearing. He will then probably require several days more for his decision."

"Pending the decision we shall apply for the release of Thaw on bail. Jerome has threatened to seize Thaw the moment he is released and rush him to Matteawan. He told me today that if we interfere there will be a 'very pretty riot.' Indeed, there will be, and I don't believe we shall come out second best. We deprecate all this talk of strong-arm squads, but it will be best for Lyon, Jerome, Kennedy and everyone else to keep their hands off."

(Continued on Page Two.)

ENVOY SEES NO IMPROVEMENT IN SITUATION

Mexicans of Prominence in and Around Vera Cruz Pessimistic; Rumors of Plots Discovered.

TROOPS ON BORDER TRAIL SMUGGLERS

House Passes Joint Resolution Appropriating $100,000 for Relief of Destitute Americans in Mexico.

VERA CRUZ, Sept. 12.—On board the Ward line steamer Mexico, which sailed yesterday for Tampico, Havana and New York, was the constitutional governor of the state of Hidalgo, Pedro Rosales. Senor Rosales had been summoned to Mexico City and told to ask for leave of absence in order that a military governor might substitute for him. He said he explained to President Huerta that he had been elected to office legally, and asked time to think the proposition made to him over. He is one of the richest men in his state.

The fact that Senor Rosales had come to Vera Cruz from the capital and had taken passage on the steamer did not become known until today. While here he told an intimate friend he was not a revolutionist but feared he might be forced into the rebel ranks. He also said that the Mexican government, in his opinion, would be badly off financially as soon as the recent $12,000,000 loan was exhausted.

Mangel in Hiding.

Perdes Mangel, a member of the chamber of deputies, who was reported to have been killed by federal soldiers last month, is said to be in Vera Cruz in hiding and waiting for an opportunity to escape to Havana. Mangel was a warm friend of the late President Madero.

Pessimistic Feeling.

Mr. Lind had two long conversations today with men who are supposed to be well informed, but their information was of the usual pessimistic character. Mr. Lind is keenly interested in the efforts of President Huerta to secure the local bank's capital of 10,000,000 pesos. No definite statement has been received here that the money has been secured. There is little doubt, however, that Huerta will get at least a part of this money; and when this is spent it is reported on good authority that he intends calling upon the state government to find means for furnishing the central government with 50,000,000 pesos.

Mr. Lind has not sent to or received any notes from either Washington or Mexico City recently. His departure from Vera Cruz, either for Washington or for Mexico City, is entirely dependent on instructions from Washington.

Pursuing Bandits.

SAN ANTONIO, Tex., Sept. 12.—Acting on orders from General Bliss, all troops stationed on the border between Eagle Pass and Laredo have taken the field in an effort to capture the band of Mexican gun smugglers who fired on Dimmit county officers yesterday. The soldiers are co-operating with citizen posses which are closing in on the bandits.

From every town near the border, posses are being rushed to the assistance of the troops and Sheriff Gardner. More than 100 ranchmen are in the field and a battle is expected hourly.

The Mexican outlaws are reported to be commanded by an American. Residents on the border are aroused over the killing of Deputy Sheriff Ortiz and the treatment given former Sheriff Buck, who was beaten and then released. The ranchmen declare they will lynch the outlaws when captured.

Recruited in Texas.

EAGLE PASS, Tex., Sept. 12.—General Jesus Carranza, constitutionalist leader, said he had information that the band of smugglers who fired yesterday on Dimmit county officers at Carrizo Springs had been recruited in Texas.

(Continued on Page Two.)

Little Girl to Christen Nevada Move On Against Using Wine Mineral Water Now Suggested

MISS ELEANOR SIEBERT, the youngest girl ever selected to stand sponsor for a United States dreadnought.

DEMOCRATS PROPOSE COMPROMISE PLAN

Committee of Six Suggested to Agree on Nominee for Marshalship of Utah.

Six prominent Democrats will be asked to decide the marshalship appointment for Utah, according to plans agreed to yesterday afternoon by the supporters of Aquila Nebeker and George A. Storrs, the leading candidates for marshal. The six who will be asked to serve on the committee to decide the question are National Committeeman William R. Wallace, State Chairman Samuel R. Thurman, and Jerrold R. Letcher, representing the Storrs supporters, and Judge O. W. Powers, Noble Warrum and Frank K. Nebeker, of the Nebeker forces.

The persons named on the committee had not all been notified of their selection last night, but it was understood that one or two would ask to be relieved from acting on the committee. Mr. Warrum said last night that he would ask to be excused from acting on the committee as he is a candidate for postmaster and feels that he should not be asked to serve on a committee to decide between candidates for another office.

Under the plan proposed the six members of the committee will agree to support any candidate selected by a majority of the committee. The endorsement of the six members of the committee, it is believed, will prove sufficient to end the marshalship fight and to unite all factions of the party. The committee will try to choose between the two candidates and in the event of a deadlock either select a seventh member of the committee or name a compromise candidate for marshal. It has been suggested that the committee should meet today.

With the appointment of the committee a boom for Jerrold R. Letcher for United States marshal was revived. Another effort has been made to induce Mr. Letcher to enter the race but he has reiterated his declaration that he will not be a candidate for marshal and will not accept if it is tendered him. Mr. Letcher has been for many years clerk of the United States district court, a position which he prefers to that of marshal. He has been a life-long Democrat and always active as a party worker.

Reports from Washington that an attempt has been made to inject the Mormon question into the marshalship fight and other contests over federal appointments in Utah prompted National Committeeman W. R. Wallace and State Chairman S. R. Thurman to send a wire to Washington last night protesting against making Mormonism an issue. They were agreed that the revival of the Mormon question at this

(Continued on Page Two.)

BODY OF GAYNOR LIES IN STATE IN LIVERPOOL

Casket, Covered With Stars and Stripes and the British Union Jack, Rests at Foot of Staircase in Town Hall.

DETAIL OF PICKED OFFICERS ON GUARD

Honors Paid the Dead Mayor of New York Said to Be Unprecedented; Docks Crowded.

LIVERPOOL, Sept. 12.—The body of William J. Gaynor lay in state tonight at the foot of the grand stairway of the town hall of Liverpool.

It was an unprecedented honor that Liverpool paid the dead executive of the American metropolis, for never before had anyone lain in state in the historic edifice. Covered with the stars and stripes and with the British union jack draped over its foot, the casket rested on a catafalque brought here from Westminster Abbey, London, and on which has reposed the bodies of many of England's most famous men. It last was used at the funeral of Field Marshal Lord Wolsley in St. Paul's cathedral last March.

The candles in the great golden candelabra from Westminster Abbey cast a subdued light up the wide stairway and over the detail of picked men from the Liverpool police force, who stood guard all night about the catafalque. John Sutherland Harwood-Banner, lord mayor of the city, who is absent on vacation, had telegraphed the city of Liverpool to do everything in their power in honor of the dead mayor of New York and they carried out their instructions in minute detail.

Great Crowd Assembles.

When the steamer Baltic, on board which Mayor Gaynor died at sea last Wednesday, docked at 8:30 o'clock this evening, the landing stage was cleared of all persons except the holders of tickets. A great crowd had assembled outside the dock gates. As soon as the gang plank was run out, Horace L. Washington, the United States consul, accompanied by a delegation from the White Star line, went aboard the ship. In the saloon Mr. Washington met Rufus Gaynor, son of Mayor Gaynor, and expressed condolences on behalf of himself and the lord mayor of Liverpool. Mr. Gaynor readily assented to the plans of the Liverpool civic authorities for the lying-in-state. Acting on the request of Mr. Washington, the port authorities waived the formalities usual in the landing of the dead from vessels and the body of Mayor Gaynor in a plain deal coffin, which was covered by an American flag, was brought ashore as soon as the first-class passengers had left the Baltic.

Coffin Taken From Ship.

The tide was so high that it was impossible for pallbearers to carry the body from the ship and the coffin was let down to the dock through the baggage chute. Here it was taken in charge by a London undertaker sent down to Liverpool by the American embassy. From the dock the coffin was carried to the street, where it was placed in a hearse drawn by four horses, which was followed by the lord mayor's carriage, followed by Rufus Gaynor and Consul Washington.

The funeral cortege, followed by a mounted squad, made its way to the quay, through a dense throng of people, who uncovered as the hearse passed the town hall. The hearse was followed on foot by a woman in deep black, who had at her side a little girl. The woman declined to give her name, but said she was a friend of Mayor Gaynor's from New York. The secretary of the lord mayor, assisted by a delegation of civic dignitaries, received the body at the town hall.

Tokens of Esteem.

When the coffin was placed on the catafalque one end of it was covered by a beautiful wreath of lilies-of-the-valley, bearing the beautiful inscription: "Deepest sympathy from the lord mayor and citizens of Liverpool."

Another wreath, composed of easter lilies, bore a card inscribed: "The condolences of Mr. and Mrs. Horace Lee Washington."

The hall where the body lay was then cleared and Rufus Gaynor was left alone for a few minutes with his dead father. Afterwards Mr. Gaynor was taken to a hotel by Consul Washington.

When Mr. Gaynor had left the building the coffin was removed from the deal box and placed in a massive fumed oak casket. On a brass plate on the cover was the inscription: "William Jay Gaynor, September, 1913."

Six policemen, who were relieved at intervals, stood at attention around the casket all night, and will continue this

(Continued on Page Two.)

The Sunday Tribune

FASHION SECTION—In addition to its regular magazine section and news sections The Tribune will publish tomorrow a sixteen-page fashion section which will be handsomely illustrated and which will contain all the latest information concerning fall fashions for men, women and children, together with the announcements by the various stores of their fall offerings.

CRIME—Continuing her series, Sophie Lyons tells how the crime requiring only a few minutes to commit is the result of weeks and months of careful planning, and how even the most skillful thieves often get nothing for all their pains.

VANDERHEYDEN FYLES—The New York season is now in full swing and the metropolitan theatergoers are enjoying the fascinating sport of discovering the new playwrights who show signs of genius and determining what plays of the old playwrights are successful or failures. Vanderheyden Fyles discusses the most recent results of this interesting pursuit.

ARE ALL ARTISTS CRAZY?—Remarkable new medical theory advanced before the world's greatest medical congress that imaginative art is only a symptom of lunacy—and the pictures by lunatics that inspired the theory.

AUTUMN ODDITIES FROM PARIS—The new "Nun's Headress," the "Eiffel Tower" plumes, very transparent tea gowns and the "Fuzzy-Wuzzy" earrings are discussed by Lady Duff-Gordon.

O. HENRY—Another gripping story by this famous author is presented for the perusal of The Tribune's readers. It is entitled "The Best Seller."

BASEBALL SEASON NEARS END—The 1913 baseball season in the Union Association will close tomorrow. Today's games are likely to be filled with interest. The race in the two big leagues is at its height. Washington and Cleveland are fighting tooth and nail for second place in the American. The Sunday paper will have full accounts of all the games.

AD WOLGAST STILL AMBITIOUS—Naughton has a chapter on Ad Wolgast, who says he will demand a fight with Willie Ritchie.

CHANCE HAS NEW PLAN—Frank Chance, the peerless leader of the Yankees, proposes a scheme to shorten the regular playing season and to make the world's championship set sixteen games. There will also be a deal of gossip about the big battle by notables of the diamond.

KENTUCKY'S RACING SEASON—The big racing meets in Kentucky are now on. They continue for two months. The "Pink" will have some interesting comment on the speedsters that make things hot at Lexington, Douglas and Lunata.

WITH THE FOOTBALLERS—Things are moving in the football world. Utah is preparing for an active campaign, and the Colorado teams are being whipped into shape. There will be articles touching on the great fall sport that deal with the outlook both locally and nationally.

(Continued on Page Two.)

REPORTS FATAL CASE OF PLAGUE IN CALIFORNIA

Board of Health at Sacramento Notified of Existence of Asiatic Scourge at Martinez.

DEATHS OF THE VICTIM NOT MADE PUBLIC

Becomes Known That a Japanese Woman Died of Disease in San Benito County Last June.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 12.—A bubonic plague occurred at Martinez, Cal., according to reports received today by the state health board from Dr. J. D. Long, United States marine hospital physician at San Francisco. At the same time a message was received by the health secretary, Dr. W. F. Hensley, in Washington, D. C., stating that the federal government had appropriated $40,000 additional to fight the disease.

The body of the Martinez victim, whose name has been withheld, was taken to the laboratory service in San Francisco by Dr. J. D. Long personally passed upon and pronounced the cause of death.

The Japanese woman in San Benito county, who died at the health office of bubonic plague in June, was the first case reported in many months.

NOT EPIDEMIC ACCORDING TO EXPERT

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 12.—"There is no epidemic of bubonic plague at Martinez," said Dr. J. D. Long today, "and there was purely sporadic, another case like it this year in Benito county, where a Japanese, a strawberry picker, died of the disease." Dr. Long said that the bubonic plague first introduced on this continent is now prevalent among rats and squirrels. The laborer at the Japanese strawberry plantation in San Benito was working in the woods known to be infested with squirrels. No doubt they had infected themselves from working in the woods. The suspicion of exterminating the squirrels was a tremendous task and the report from Washington was not yet received. The case was not a result of the popular infection in our cases as these show. It is not the appropriation has been made to do with this special condition of a chronic condition can be cured only slowly. The case was asked for long at Martinez case was discovered in California this year. The appearance of the disease in San Francisco prior to the appearance of the disease in California and fire. It was stamped out in many months of effort by the health authorities, who subordinated the disease and slums districts of San Francisco to a thorough disinfection.

It was developed that rats were the medium of the contagion of the disease. The government first turned its attention to eradicating the rats and then began a systematic campaign against the rats. The common ground squirrel was found to be infested with the disease. This war against the plague had made its appearance in the squirrel. Hundreds of the little animals have been slain.

The plague has never obtained in this country, according to the government experts, and it is owing to the difference between the American mode of living and the oriental conditions it comes. All of the rats on the coast have been exterminated or directly traceable to them.

SALT LAKE MAN NOTED BY THE U. P.

SALT LAKE CITY, Sept. 12.—The Union Pacific freight train established in Denver the fastest general freight agent in the country, according to the U. P. report. The train, which is operated by the Cheate's jurisdiction, is the fastest in the west. It will include Colorado and Utah.

Denver has the largest freight train in the world. It includes both the Union Pacific system and the Cheate's jurisdiction. The Cheate's jurisdiction is the fastest in the world. It was at one time the fastest train in the world.

RECORDED IN TEXAS.

EAGLE PASS, Tex., Sept. 12.—General Jesus Carranza, constitutionalist leader, said he had information that the band of smugglers who fired yesterday on Dimmit county officers at Carrizo Springs had been recruited in Texas.

(Continued on Page Two.)

OFFERS HERSELF AS LIVING SACRIFICE

By International News Service.
SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 12.—Offering herself as a living sacrifice so that her little son might be saved from slow starvation and be given a good home, Mrs. Nellie B. Morse, a Utah widow of 21, stranded without funds in San Francisco, tried today to sell her living body as a subject for scientific experiment.

The pretty, frail little mother took her babe in arms and tottered from her apartment at 640 Eddy street to a newspaper office, where she advertised the fact that she was willing to give herself into the hands of science in order to save her child.

She waited in her room the coming of news that her offer was accepted, when there came a messenger of mercy to her door.

Instead of a cold and unemotional scientist, there entered a young and pretty matron, little Mrs. W. S. Wright, of 3073 Pine street, who arranged to give Mrs. Morse and her baby a home.

It was because her mother had been for many years head nurse in a hospital that the idea of offering herself for experimental purposes occurred to Mrs. Morse.

(Continued on Page Two.)