

BLUEJACKETS FROM THE ARKANSAS SWINGING DOWN FIFTH AVENUE, BOY SCOUTS MEANWHILE SINGING ROLLICKING MARCHING SONGS.
(Times Photo Service.)

THE HUGE FLORIDA CROWDING AND SHOULDERING HER WAY INTO NEW YORK HARBOR WATERS IN THE WINTER'S FIRST SNOW STORM.
(Paul Thompson.)

New York Welcomes Men of the Victorious Overseas Battleship Fleet.

SECRETARY OF WAR, NEWTON D. BAKER,

in the Official Reviewing Stand, Receiving a Cup of Hot Coffee from Mrs. Julian M. Gerard, Secretary Daniels of the Navy, Served First, Is Already Smacking His Lips Over His Cup.

(© International Film Service.)

THE NEW YORK, REAR ADMIRAL HUGH RODMAN'S FLAGSHIP of the Overseas Fleet, to Which, with the British Grand Fleet, the German Warships Silently Surrendered, on Entering New York Harbor, Firing a Salute in Honor of the Secretary of War.
(Times Photo Service.)

THE ARIZONA LEADING THE RETURNING HOME OVERSEAS FLEET INTO NEW YORK HARBOR THROUGH A SNOW STORM AND HALF-A-GALE.
(Times Photo Service.)

A "BLIMP" OF THE ATLANTIC FLEET SWINGING AT ANCHOR ABOVE THE MOTHER SHIP IN THE HUDSON.
(Edwin Levick.)

(© International Film Service.)

SEVERELY WOUNDED AMERICAN VETERANS MADE

COMFORTABLE ON FIFTH AVENUE TO REVIEW THE PARADE OF THE RETURNING SAILORS.