

Below—
U. S. S.
Michigan
with decks
cleared for action. A striking
and intimate picture
that gives one a definite impression of this
sea fighter's businesslike efficiency.

Below—
—another
new photograph of the super-dread-
nought Arizona
coming bow on
at full speed with guns trained for a
starboard broadside.
© Burnell Poole.

A brand new picture of the U. S. S. Arizona, the latest dreadnought to join the Atlantic Fleet, hitting it up at a 16-knot clip in line of breast formation.
© Burnell Poole.

Looking forward along the narrow decks of one of Uncle Sam's speedy destroyers now doing such splendid work overseas in hunting down the U-boats and in convoying our troop transports.
© E. Miller, Jr., N.Y.