FORCED TO MURDER BY ROFRANO, HE SAYS

Colorado Homesteader Asserts Death Threat Compelled Him to Kill Intruder.

 זו המחברת של מנו, השאיר את המכתב לבראש החודש. ה birght, one of the men who had seen the team play at night, had been watching outside the theatre when he noticed a group of men gathering near the entrance. He told the manager, who then called the police.

The Police were waiting for them when they arrived, and took them into custody. The leader of the group, a man named Frank, was arrested on the spot.

Frank had been seen arguing with one of the theatre owners earlier in the day, and it was believed that he was the instigator of the disturbance.

The theatre had been closed for the past week due to an outbreak of typhoid fever, but it had reopened today.

At the time of the disturbance, the theatre was crowded with people who were watching a performance of "The Turn of the Screw." The performance had been delayed due to a technical problem, but it had been resumed just before the trouble started.

The police were quick to arrive, and they soon had the situation under control. The theatre was closed again until the police could make sure that it was safe for the audience to return.

The manager of the theatre thanked the police for their prompt action, and assured the audience that safety would be maintained at all times.

The members of the disturbance were taken to the police station, where they were interrogated about their activities. They were all released shortly after, after explaining their reasons for being at the theatre.

The police are continuing to investigate the incident, and will be looking for more information about the activities of the disturbance.
