SYLVESTER AGAIN CHOSEN AS HEAD

Police Chiefs Re-elect Him as President of the International Body.

GIVEN DIAMOND PIN

Grand Rapids Is Chosen as the Next Meeting Place—Convention Adjourns.

After hearing an explanation of the wonderful dactyloscopic system of international fingerprint identification, listening to an address by John Barrett, Director General of the Pan-American Union, and placing its stamp of approval upon the dactylograph as a means of serviceable aid in criminal detection, the International Association of Police Chiefs yesterday afternoon adjourned its twentieth annual convention to a termination at the Raleigh Hotel by electing officers for the ensuing year. Maj. Richard Sylvester, superintendent of the local Police Department, being chosen to serve for his thirteenth consecutive year as president.

Without the least mentionable opposition, Grand Rapids, Mich., was selected as the meeting place for the next convention to the association to convene at the Michigan city was extended by Harvey C. Carr, chief of police of Grand Rapids. The only other bid for the convention was from Charleston, W. Va., that city being supported by James R. Cantwell, chief of police there. When the vote was taken the delegates were unanimously in favor of Grand Rapids, Chief Cantwell yielding good naturedly to the overwhelming sentiment.

Diamond for Sylvester.

In addition to Maj. Sylvester, the following officers were re-elected: Michael Regan, chief of police of Buffalo, N. Y., first vice president; Col. A. P. Sherman, chief of police of Ottawa, Canada, second vice president; and Harvey C. Carr, of Grand Rapids, Mich., secretary-treasurer. Frank J. Canada, chief of police of Elmira, N. Y., was elected sergeant-at-arms to succeed John T. Jansen, chief of police of Milwaukee, Wis. Martin J. Hyland, chief of police of Indianapolis, Ind., placed Maj. Sylvester's nomination before the association, speaking of his faithful service in the past. Upon election the mayor was escorted by a committee to the platform, where he told the delegates that he would do all in his power to serve them loyally and efficiently.

On behalf of the association, Chief Regan, of Buffalo, presented Maj. Sylvester with a magnificent diamond scarf-pin. "Gentlemen, I have never yet in my life worn diamonds," said the major in response. "My eyes have often been dazzled by them, and they have been compelled to look at them, and perhaps more frequently after them. And now I hesitate to begin the life of a sport. But I appreciate deeply the honor which you have done, and am touched sincerely by the esteem in which you have shown to hold me."

Probably the feature of the closing session was the presentation of a paper, written by Juan Vuestch, chief of the Bureau of Dactyloscopic Identification of the province of Buenos Ayres, Argentine Republic. Senior Vuestch made the trip from South America to Washington at his own expense for the purpose of explaining to the members of the association the fingerprint system of which he is an ardent advocate, and which has been adopted by the general government. The paper was read by Frank L. Joannini, the translator of the manuscript.

World Increase Efficiency.

Senior Vuestch urged the universal adoption of the dactyloscopic system of identification, pointing out the progress under which the police of the United States worked because of the lack of interstate uniformity of system. He said that by uniformity of method the efficiency of the world's police force could be increased astonishingly.

FIVE POLICE CHIEFS WHO, TOGETHER, WEIGH MORE THAN HALF A TON

Left to right—Roy R. Gilson, of Lackawanna, N. Y.; height, 6 feet 4 1/2 inches; weight, 276 pounds. Charles H. Goodrich, of Binghamton, N. Y.; height, 6 feet 2 1/2 inches; weight, 230 pounds. Lona R. Day, of Scranton, Pa.; height, 6 feet 2 inches; weight, 175 pounds. Michael Regan, of Buffalo, height, 6 feet 3 inches; weight, 276 pounds. The veteran at extreme right is Chief Vianini, of Jacksonville, Fla., the smallest member of the association.

P. Fromm, chief of police of Council Bluffs, Iowa. Chief Fromm is a former newspaper man, serving for sixteen years as correspondent for a string of about forty large newspapers. For a long time he was connected with the "Daily News."

"The astute newspaper reporter," he said, "is a sleuth, and is able to help the police considerably. The average newspaper reporter deserves the respect and confidence of the police. The police officials should be strictly impartial, showing no favoritism."

"Police work is greatly hampered by premature publication of news. The police should guard against this. They should not try to hide facts from the press, but should take the reporters into their confidence and then trust to their honor to suppress objectionable details. Reporters are as keen as detectives, and in their work frequently aid the police by finding clues in different cases. I believe that newspaper men would make good detectives. They are quick, and they realize the value of time."

JOHN BARRETT PRAISES OCCUPATION OF POLICE

John Barrett, Director General of the Pan-American Union, delivered a felicitous address, in which he spoke of the organization and purpose of the institution which he represented. He praised in the highest terms the police department of Buenos Ayres and the police supervision of the Canal Zone. He said that the ultimate result of the construction of the Panama Canal would be the conversion of a jungle into a land of civilization.

RELATION OF SUFFRAGE TO WORK OF POLICE

"The Relation of Suffrage to Police Work" was the subject of a paper by E. Sebastian, chief of police of Los Angeles, Cal. He made a strong defense of woman suffrage, and said the enfranchisement of the women in California had resulted in the enactment of laws for the welfare and upbuilding of the state. He said that morally Los Angeles had advanced noticeably since the granting of the ballot to women. He urged his fellow-delegates to employ women in police work, if possible.

surprise you when I present to you a list of the laws passed by our Legislature at its recent session, such and affecting women and children. Had it not been for the interest our women voters displayed in these laws, many or all of them would have died in the committee.

RIDICULING OF POLICE BITTERLY ATTACKED

Resolutions were adopted complaining against the ridiculing of the police through the medium of the reels displayed at motion picture shows. The depiction of policemen accepting graft and similar offensive representations were denounced, and it was decided to request all of the manufacturing companies to refrain in the future from subjecting the men in blue to ridicule.

The Chamber of Commerce was thanked for its entertainment of the delegates, and votes of appreciation were also extended to the management of the Los Angeles fair for courtesies shown during the down-river trip. The street railway companies for transportation facilities, and to Isaac Gann, president of the Chamber of Commerce, for the courtesies extended by his organization.

SIDELIGHTS ON POLICE CHIEFS

Chief John N. Allaback, of Dayton, Ohio, has a squad of eighteen motorcycle "cops" who are doing good work. "I think the people of Dayton fully appreciate what these men are doing. Within seven minutes I can have one of these men at any place in the city. They answer calls quickly, and automobilists, bicyclists, and motorcyclists now have more respect for the speed laws in Dayton." When asked what Dayton was doing to rebuild itself after the flood, Chief Allaback paid a tribute to the public-spirited citizens there who have just contributed $275,000 with which to erect levees to protect the town. Dayton is coming back to life even a greater life than before. Work soon will start in the building of strong levees that will protect the city, said the chief.

The Dayton police department, besides having a squad of motorcycle "cops" has a complete roving gallery and detention measurements of hundreds and hundreds of famous crooks and criminals. Shortly after the fingerprint system will be started there.

James Cathcart, chief of police of Columbus, O., denied the reports sent out broadcast from the capital of South Carolina that the police department and Gov. Cole Livingston Blease were at war. One report was that the police department had been tipped off to a poker game in which the Governor was going to take "a few hands." Chief Cathcart knows nothing of such a raid.

It is true, however, that every time the Columbia police department "pulls" the Governor's colored chauffeur for "speeding" the Governor adds on another constable to get even with the city. This amounts to $40 a month. It is said Blease has remarked that every time his chauffeur is fined he will add another constable.

C. W. Tobie, manager of the criminal department of the William J. Burns National Detective Agency, of Chicago, is here to make the acquaintance of the visiting chiefs. The Burns agency, which recently obtained the protective work for the American Bankers' Association, has installed a complete Bertillon system of the world's famous crooks and criminals, and is soon to establish the fingerprint system also.

WORK ON BATTLESHIP TO COMMENCE SOON

Secretary Daniels Orders New York Navy Yard to Begin on Battleship No. 39.

LARGEST SHIP IN THE NAVY

Orders issued by Secretary of the Navy Daniels yesterday, provide for the beginning of construction work on battleship No. 39, before July, at the New York Navy Yard. This ship, which is yet to be named and will be practically the sister ship of the Pennsylvania, is the largest fighting machine yet projected in the world, will be the fourth battleship to be built in a government navy yard. The other battleships, all were built at New York, are the Connecticut and Florida, with the New York yet under construction.

In ordering the prompt commencement of operations on the latest battleship, Secretary Daniels holds that he has established a highwater mark in the value of new construction work under way in the navy yards. In a statement, he gives the amount of the value of this ship construction work assigned to the government yards on July 1, for each of the last ten years. On July 1 this year the value of work under way will be $11,463,000. The highest mark previously was in 1911, when it amounted to $7,981,000. In 1912 it was less than $4,000,000, in 1913 more than $20,000,000, and in 1906 it was only $700,000, whereas in 1913 its value was $4,855,000.

BAPTIST CONVENTION OPENS.

New England Branch in Session in Cosmopolitan Church.

An address of encouragement by Senator Moses Clapp, the annual address of the president, Rev. W.
