

Naval Chief Visits Pacific Fleet : England's Royal Heir : Comedienne Rallies Strikers

SECRETARY OF THE NAVY DANIELS boarding the U. S. S. New Mexico, flagship of the huge new Pacific fleet, upon its arrival at San Diego, Calif., after successfully passing through the Panama Canal

THE PRINCE OF WALES greeting an American officer in Hyde Park, London, at the time the royal heir and General Pershing inspected the 3000 American troops on review there

MARIE DRESSLER, comedienne, surrounded by a veritable throng of striking actors in front of the Actors' Equity Association headquarters, New York

TRUE AS plummet the mermaid dives into the waters of Broomall Lake at Media from a trapeze swinging far out over the quiet water of the pond from an oak's branch

BETTY MAY, in the cast of the University of California's pageant "Miriam, Sister of Moses," recently produced in the Greek Theatre at Berkeley. In the production Ruth St. Denis was Miriam and Ted Shawn enacted Moses

ENGLISH SUBMARINE K-12, the largest and most powerful undersea craft built, capable of making a speed of twenty-eight knots. One of the only type of submarine steam-driven on the surface, with funnels that can be housed for diving. Note the curious formation of the bow

ENGLISH FISHERMEN were puzzled when this odd monster was landed in their mackerel net at Tor Bay, on the east coast of Devonshire. The species, unknown to the fishermen, was eighteen feet long and resembled somewhat a shark and dolphin