Cables on the Ocean Bed.

The ocean cable between New York, the Azores and the Irish coast rests on the bed of the ocean. For more than Forty Years Cotton Growers have known that POTASH PAYS

More than 11,651,200 Tons of Potash Salts had been imported and used in the United States in the 20 years previous to January, 1915, when shipments ceased. Of this 6,460,700 Tons consisted of which the cotton grower knew was both a plant food and a preventive of blight and rust,—with it came also 1,312,400 Tons of which has the same effects on Cotton, but which was used mainly in mixed fertilizers.

Shipments of both Kainit and Manure Salt have been resumed but the shortage of coal and cars and high freight rates make it more desirable to ship Manure Salt, which contains 20 per cent of actual Potash, instead of Kainit, which contains less than 13 per cent actual Potash.

MANURE SALT can be used as a side dressing on Cotton in just the same way as Kainit and will give the same results. Where you used 100 pounds of Kainit, you need to use but 62 pounds of Manure Salt, or 100 pounds of Manure Salt go as far as 161 pounds of Kainit.

MANURE SALT has been coming forward in considerable amounts and cotton growers, who cannot secure Kainit, should make an effort to get Manure Salt for side dressing to aid in making a big Cotton Crop.

Muriate of Potash

50 per cent actual Potash, has been coming forward also,—100 pounds of Muriate are equivalent to 400 pounds of Kainit or 250 pounds of Manure Salt.

These are the three

Standard GERMAN Potash Salts that were always used in making cotton fertilizers and have been used for all these years with great profit and without any damage to the crop.

The supply is not at present as large as in former years, but there is enough to greatly increase the Cotton Crop if you insist on your dealer making the necessary effort to get it for you.

AS IT APPEARED TO HIM ACTOR ALSO PHILOSOPHER

Hubby Had No Difficulty at All in Classifying His Wife as Species of Tree.

Sir Herbert Tree Put on Record as Author of Two Really Witty Observations.

They are a husband and wife who have many quarrels. And she is not a fair antagonist, because she always weeps during every quarrel in order to win her point. The other night she brought home a new fur hat which she proudly exhibited to her husband, who did not like it, and proceeded to say so. "Why, it looks queer to even the dog," he ended. "Look how he's barking at it. He thinks it is a coon in a tree."

Apropos of two funny imitations, Sir Herbert Tree once said: "A man never knows what a big fool he is until he sees himself imitated by one." He disliked flattery, and said so in these words: "Flattery makes the great little, and the little great."

"Don't you call me a tree," she stormed, and then began to cry. "I suppose you're going to say next that I'm either a quince or persimmon tree."

In presenting his portrait to a critic, he wrote on the margin: "To the worst of critics and the best of friends." His friend the critic was rather surprised with this curious inscription, and asked Sir Herbert for a little explanation. Tree quickly replied:

"When you put more butter into your criticisms, I'll say you are the best of critics and the worst of friends."

Craze for Tattooing.

Tattoo artists in London have been busy since the armistice. One soldier has had the names of all the battles in which he participated indelibly written on his arm. It was a rather long job, for he had been through the war from the start in 1914. In Thames court recently a man appeared with his hand, quite barren of hair, covered with tattooed butterflies, stars, etc.
