EDITORIAL FLINGS

The planet Mars is said to be approaching the earth at the rate of 975,000 miles a day. Just so long as he keeps beyond our three-mile limit we shall take no steps to check him.

It may be, of course, that you can't put new wine in old bottles, but we saw the second wife of a certain Paris man the other day who looked pretty comfortable in the first wife's sedan.

Speaking of "limbs" now, everybody knows that you refer to the branches of trees. It was not always thus, in the mid-victorian days, for instance. But prudery is now of date.

A man in the hills of Kentucky is said by his friends to be lucky when he gets in a feud. If he has a large brood of sons who can shoot—and are plucky.

Jack Dempsey got back from Europe in a happy frame of mind and without encountering any such delays as delousing, demobilizing, etc., that came to the boys who went over there in 1917 and 1918.

A Louisville business house tried to write in one word a prescription for the revival of business conditions. The best it could do was, "kwitchebelliakin." If you know what it means, maybe you had better do it.

A Kentuckian, ninety-two years years old, who plows most of the day, has lost all his teeth and can't hold a pipe in his mouth, so he's trying to learn how to smoke cigarettes. At his age they won't hurt his morals, but they are apt to cut down his wind a little.

MEN AND HORSES

(Davenport Democrat)

Morvich, winner of the Kentucky Derby, has a nice, equal temper. He's always the same, says his hostler. Other horses get fretful, develop cranky streaks, can't keep still. Morvich isn't that kind. It has a lot to do with his winning.

If people are like horses, there's a lesson in that. Horses, at any rate, are like people. Morvich won his race, but a lot of things helped him. One was the fact that Charley and Billy went to Louisville with him. Charley is an Airedale, and Billy a pony, stablemate and traveling companions of the famous three-year-old. Morvich counts them his best friends. They helped to keep him happy and contented through the long weeks of training and the trip to Louisville and the wait for the race.

"A good horse likes to be amongst friends," commented the hostler.

Right Not to Be Withheld.
What! shall I not everywhere enjoy the light of the sun and stars? and may I not seek and contemplate, in every corner of the earth, under the canopy of heaven, consoling and delightful truth?—Dante.

Fatty Arbuckle's films are said to be still very popular in Russia. Somebody is always knocking Russia.

STOP AIR ACCIDENTS

New Aircraft Engine Eliminates Use of Gasoline.

Use of Heavy Fuel Oil, It is Believed by Experts, Will Prevent Such Disasters as That to Army Dirigible Roma.

Baltimore, Md.—Experiments conducted by the national advisory committee for aeronautics, under the general direction of Dr. Joseph S. Ames, have developed an aircraft engine eliminating the use of gasoline, which Doctor Ames described as the "fundamental cause" of air accidents in the air.

By the use of heavy fuel oil, Doctor Ames said, it is hoped to prevent such disasters as that to the army dirigible Roma, in which only three men out of forty-five escaped. Doctor Ames is professor of physics at Johns Hopkins university and chairman of the executive committee of the aeronautic organization.

The new engine, a high speed airplane wing, and a device which is being developed for obtaining data and making tests under actual service conditions, will be reported at the semi-annual meeting of the advisory committee in Washington.

No special processing of the oil employed in the new engine is required, Doctor Ames said. The motor itself is a modified Liberty, with pistons made much longer to provide greater compression. It has no valves. The oil, very thick and gummy, is forced through a jet by a compression pump, and enters the cylinder under high pressure.

The greatest problem involved, Doctor Ames said, was to make a motor of this sort light enough for aviation, but he regarded this as largely accomplished. He added that the oil could be used for automobiles.

HAS PRIZE MESS CREW

Uncle Sam's thirty-three million dollar battleship, the U. S. S. "Maryland," can now boast of a wonderful mess crew—the pride of the navy. Captain D. F. Sellers each week has an inspection of the mess tables for which there are three prizes offered to the best mess crew that are attentive to their duties. Keen rivalry exists between the mess squads and it became so difficult that George W. Sweeney of the Hotel Mens' association was called upon to judge the inspection one day. The photo shows Capt. D. F. Sellers of the Maryland and George W. Sweeney.

DEAD REBELS ADVERTISE U. S.

Pajamas of Hanged Albanians Bear Label "Gift of American People."

Scutari, Albania.—"Gift of the American people" read labels on the pajama-clad bodies of two notorious insurgents which hung from a tree in the center of this town for several days.

The incongruity of the labels evidently did not strike the Albanian authorities who carried out the executions, as all the pajamas given out to the poor by American relief workers are so marked, and these garments evidently were the only ones available in which to clothe the condemned men.

Hens Worked One Day.

Gettysburg, Pa.—John McDonnell has a brood of 15 black Minorca chickens which do strange things. The other day the flock laid 16 eggs. Two of the eggs were joined end to end. Both eggs in this freak combination are perfectly formed and about the size of ordinary eggs.

Falls Dead in Grave He Dug for Another

Weehawken, N. J.—After completing the digging of a grave in the cemetery here Christian Bock, forty-two years old, of 5 River Road, North Bergen, was stricken with acute indigestion and fell into the grave he had dug for another.

As the man toppled over the funeral cortege bearing the body of Mrs. Mary Bruggman, of Jersey City, had entered the gates of the cemetery. When the casket was about to be lowered to the grave, the body of the grave digger was discovered.

Bock was a veteran of the Spanish-American war, and served as one of the late Colonel Roosevelt's Rough Riders.

CHAS. S. WOOD NOW GIVES HIS ENDORSEMENT

Says He Did Not Know What a Well Day Was For Two Years, But Tanlac Put Him Back On Feet In Short Time.

"There is something about Tanlac that certainly does the work," said Chas. S. Wood, 937 South Twenty-fifth street, Terre Haute, Ind.

"A short time ago I was almost down and out, and here I am today in the very best of health, feeling as strong as I ever did in my life. Nothing but Tanlac made the change in me, either. My troubles started with influenza about two years ago, and from that time up until Tanlac straightened out my trouble I didn't know what a well day was.

"I am like my old self again now, eating, sleeping and working as well as ever I did in my life."
Tanlac is sold by all good druggists.

WHISKERS AND ILL TEMPER

Our barber tells us that if we want a smooth shave we must compose our mind.

"The man who gets into my chair all mad and uncomfortable is the man I can't shave. Bad temper seems to stiffen the beard and each hair sort of stands up and fights the razor." So says the barber.

If the human hair and the human hide are so seriously affected by a grouch what must happen to the delicate and hidden seats of our being?

Probably some day it will be discovered with ill temper, worry, envy, malice, hatred give definite physical relations. We do know that the hopeful, cheerful invalid does more for himself than the doctors can. We do know that persistent belief in the sickness of any part of the body will produce sickness there, without other cause. If a whisker gets mad, and if there is real truth in the idea of the hair bristling through fear or rage, certainly we should know about it.

Certainly it would help a lot in the present suspicious era if all of us could feel that our ill temper definitely injures our health, shortens our life, and heaps misfortune upon us. If, for our personal selfish benefit, we kicked out spleen and all grouchiness and really loved one another it would be a much more pleasant world.

Most of the present light and costly fussing between capital and labor appears to be based on a suspicion. If labor believed that capital was not entirely selfish, and if capital felt that labor was only trying to get what it believed it was earning, all the rest of the argument would soon be settled.

While half of us hate the other half any peace pacts will be more bits of papers.—Louisville Herald.

CORNS

Lift Off with Fingers

Doesn't hurt a bit! Drop a little "Freezone" on an aching corn, instantly that corn stops hurting, then shortly you lift it right off with fingers. Truly!

Your druggist sells a tiny bottle of "Freezone" for a few cents, sufficient to remove every hard corn, soft corn, or corn between the toes, and the calluses, without soreness or irritation. (adv-T)

USERS OF ADDING MACHINES

For your convenience we are now carrying a stock of the best adding machine rolls and can supply you with one or a dozen at a time. This is a fine linen bond paper and absolutely lintless.

Without Food for Three Years.
Probably no man could go entirely without food for two months and survive. But a spider has been known to dispense with food for ten months; and a beetle has come safely through a three years' fast.
