Censorship.

They were censoring things in New York and the less stuff one had for the censor the briefer the delay. I had with me a suit case full of news paper clippings and a brief case filled with copies of dispatches I had sent to The Tribune and similar material. The books and pamphlets contain much faction in any of our 23 shops, truth about conditions in Europe, truth we clinch the promise with a which, in my humble judgment, the American reader will find of value to know. Articles Were Held Up

WASHINGTON, May 14.—Officials here denied that they had any knowledge of who has been holding up the papers of Elias Tobenkin, correspondent for "The New York Tribune." They also said that they had no idea who had authority for such action.

The Military Intelligence Bureau of the War Department said there was no censorship governing this situation, and was unable to explain why the articles were held. The postal censorship office said that the only scrutiny made at ports is to see that mailing regulations have not been violated. Officials of the customs division of the Treasury Department. ficials of the customs division of the Treasury Department also were unfamiliar with the details of any censorship at New York.

City to Investigate Riots

Governor Orders Swann to Look Into May Day Trouble

Governor Smith has requested District Attorney Swann to make an investigation of the riot at Madison Square Garden by men in uniform on the night of May 1. Mr. Swann yesterday received a letter from the Governor, which was signed by J. H. Kellogg, his legal advisor, and in it was logg, his legal advisor, and in it was included a letter to the Governor from Ernest Bohm, secretary of the Central Federated Union, of this city.

Mr. Bohm protests against the breaking up of the meeting of the Central Federated Union. He points out to the Governor that "men in uniform, led by a man in the uniform of the army of a foreign government, attacked peaceful citizens, causing spirit."

mr. Swann has arranged to confer with Mr. Bohm and after all the facts are obtained, he says, an official investigation will be made.
