Ogden Conservatory of Music and Mrs. T. Don Beeson Complimented

Recently Mrs. T. Don Beeson, of the Conservatory of Music, sent a copy of the local school's catalogue to her former instructors in Chicago and in reply these noted professors of music paid the local conservatory high compliments as also did they Mrs. Beeson.

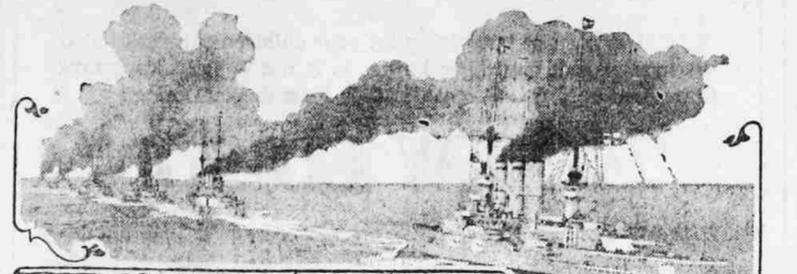

Mrs. T. Don Beeson was a pupil of the Chicago Musical college under Professor Walter Knueper in piano. She also carried the full graduate course in harmony, history and appreciation of music. She studied pipe organ under Mr. Hugo Goodwin, S. C. O., a noted organist who plays one thousand pieces in his repertoire without a repetition. Knowing these two noted are interested in all things musical, Mrs. Beeson sent each a catalogue of the Ogden Conservatory of Music. Two very flattering responses followed from these famous musicians complimenting Ogden upon the establishment of such an institution and the conservatory on securing Mrs. Beeson's services as a teacher.

Mr. Walter Knueper said: "I consider the Ogden conservatory very fortunate in securing the services of one whom I know to be very thorough in all her work," and he enclosed a clipping from one of the Chicago musical journals making mention of Mrs. Beeson, one of the Ogden conservatory teachers. Mr. Goodwin was equally complimentary in his appreciation of Mrs. Beeson and the catalog, which aroused his interest in the success of Ogden's musical future.

IMMINENT NAVAL OPERATION IN NORTH SEA IS REGARDED AS GERMANY'S "DESPERATION MOVE"

The most powerful of the German dreadnaughts in battle formation (above) and map shows (1) location of the main British blockading fleet at Kirkland Islands, (2) the English channel fleet blocking the Straits of Dover, (3) Helgoland, the German naval fortress, and (4) the Kiel canal, base of the German grand fleet.

feels the time is at hand for a "desperation move" is the belief of those in high authority among the governments of the allies. The many recent failures of her land forces have urged Germany to plan the immediate use of her greatest naval strength for which the German grand fleet has been in preparation since the war's beginning.

STUDENTS RESPOND TO THE CALL FOR ASSISTANCE

Seventy-five students of the Weber academy left at 1 o'clock today for North Ogden to pick grapes and help with crops there following an S. O. C. (save our crops) message which came to the school this morning. When the message was received a hurried consultation was held by members of the school labor organization, which was instituted for just such a purpose, and the problem was put up to the students at a special assembly period.

The senior class volunteered bodily and the majority of the junior class followed the example. This gave nearly seventy-five students to the force of fruit pickers. Information was next sent R. E. Wilson and he arranged for conveyances to take the students to North Ogden to the vineyards where help was wanted.

The labor organization of the academy expects to furnish aid in this manner whenever it can be done for a worthy purpose and the students have been quick to volunteer their services at all times.

ENGAGEMENT.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert White of North Ogden announce the engagement of their daughter, Edith Elizabeth, to Wilford G. Martin. The wedding occurs Wednesday, October 24, in the Salt Lake temple.

HEATHERBELLS.

The ladies of the Heatherbells club meet for their annual election of officers at the home of Mrs. Anderson on Friday afternoon. CHARLES WILLIAMS IS KILLED WHEN HORSE FALLS UPON HIM

Ogden with him since he came here from Montana. Funeral services will be announced later.

Charles Williams, a rider for the Ogden Sales company, age 45 years, was killed yesterday when the horse which he was riding fell on him and broke his neck. Death came in a few seconds.

The dead man was an experienced rider and known throughout the west for his horsemanship, but was caught in a peculiar position when the accident occurred. He had roped a mule in one of the small corrals, to take it to the inspection shed for government officers, and the plunging animal pulled his horse over before the horse could get into position to set himself against the pull. Williams became tangled in the rope when the horse fell and could not free himself. Riders near by cut the rope immediately and pulled the man from under the horse in an unconscious condition. He died almost immediately.

Mr. Williams was brought to Ogden from Miles City by Otto Meek when the latter opened the Ogden sales yard about a year ago. Mr. Williams was noted as a rider and roper and had been a trusted and valued employee of Mr. Meek. He leaves a wife and two children who have resided in

BEET LOADER DELAYS WORK OF THE FARMERS

Because repairs to the sugar beet loader of the Amalgamated Sugar company at Riverdale have not been finished, beet growers of that district are being subjected to the laborious method of loading their beets into the cars by pitching them by hand. The loader has been under course of repair for several days and was not finished by the time required. However, it is expected that it will be in shape for handling the beets in a few days.

As the farmers of that district work now they have to pitch the beets into the cars from their wagons. This requires a great deal of hard work, as the unloading of several tons of beets by hand amounts to something.

The loader at Riverdale is somewhat different than the loaders being built and already built through other districts. The farmers at Riverdale drive their wagons along a platform and dump the beets into an elevator which hoists and dumps them into the cars. Beet loaders built recently are long platforms, on which the wagon is driven, with an opening to dump the beets through directly into the cars.

SUGAR FACTORY IS IN NEED OF MEN

The labor situation at the Amalgamated Sugar company's plant in Wilson Lane is the cause of considerable uneasiness to the company as there is such a shortage that manufacturing will be considerably hampered, if the condition is not relieved. The plant is fifty men short at this time and there seems little chance of recruiting the force at an early date.

GEORGE BROWNING IS NEW BISHOP OF SECOND WARD

George E. Browning has succeeded Robert McQuarrie as bishop of the Second ward of Weber stake. The reorganization was effected by the stake presidency. As his counselors, W. E. Newman and Eleanor Jones will succeed George Shorten and C. J. A. Lindquist. Elder Ernest E. Stevens is retained as ward clerk. The resignation of Bishop McQuarrie comes as the result of old age and failing health.

The reorganization was attended by a large congregation. Hymns appropriate to the occasion were sung and speeches of respect to the retiring bishop were made. Elder George Shorten spoke in most glowing terms of the life of the retiring bishop. President L. W. Shurtliff, President John Watson, President Alva L. Scoville and many others also spoke in laudatory terms of Bishop McQuarrie.

CARD OF THANKS

The loving kindness and sympathy of our relatives and friends, extended during our recent bereavement in the illness and demise of our beloved daughter, Wilhelmina, was a source of great comfort which we greatly appreciate and desire to extend our heartfelt thanks. Trusting that He who rewardeth for all good may ever bless you—Mr. and Mrs. H. Neuter, man and Family. 1709

HITTING THE MARK HAS GROWN INTO A HABIT WITH GUNNERS OF U. S. NAVY

This photograph made during recent target practice shows a shell from one of the big guns of a ship of the Atlantic fleet hitting the water between two targets. The targets are separated a distance about equal to the length of a battleship and a shot between them is registered as a "hit." The Jacky in the stern of the boat is wig wagging the result of the shot to the judges on the bridge.

RAILROAD EMPLOYEES BUYING SECOND LIBERTY BONDS

That the railroad employees of Ogden are back of Uncle Sam in the war is shown by the fact that they are buying generously of bonds of the second liberty loan.

Six employees of the Union Pacific in the city ticket office on Washington avenue, have each pledged themselves to buy a $100 bond. They also bought bonds of the first loan. The men are W. H. Chevers, general agent; C. L. McKnight, his chief clerk; Paul Beemer, city ticket agent; R. R. Goodman, assistant city ticket agent; D. M. Newton, traveling passenger agent, and F. D. Wilson, traveling freight and passenger agent.

MISS EDNA LADWIG IN COUNTY DISTRICTS

Project work of the home economics department of the county fair bureau is progressing satisfactorily in Weber county, according to Miss Edna Ladwig, demonstrator in charge of the work. At present the district organizations are being completed. Miss Ladwig went to Pleasant View and North Ogden this afternoon, intending to hold a meeting at one place this afternoon and at the other this evening. She will hold a meeting at Riverdale tomorrow and on Wednesday will go to Ogden valley to start the organization work there.

In several of the county districts the organizations have been completed and reports have been turned in to the demonstrator of the work. Several chairmen have been named for these district organizations.

Miss Ladwig says the work is being enthusiastically pursued by the women in the county and that great results in the way of food conservation, economy and other wartime needs are expected.

THEATERS

AT THE ALHAMBRA
"The Man From Painted Post," is the latest picture in which the popular Douglas Fairbanks is to be seen in Ogden. The picture is running at the Alhambra, starting last night. It is one of those wild west stories of the border days, in which cattle rustlers terrorized the stockmen of the region by their relentless persecutions of the law abiding.

As a "cow detective" Doug is great. He comes into Wyoming to put an end to the depredations of a certain gang of thieves and the way he does it is typically "Fairbanksian." No one else could do the things he does and get away with them. There are many imitators but there is but one Doug.

Incidental to his work as a destroyer of the unlawful, there is a delightful love story. He falls in love with the district schoolma'am and his unique method of courtship is funny in the extreme.

The picture will run today and tomorrow, followed by "The Lust of the

NATIONAL SECRETARY OF CANNERS IS TO SPEAK

F. E. Correll, secretary of the National Canners' association, will be in Ogden tomorrow and will address canners of Utah at a luncheon to be given at the Weber club at noon.

Invitations have been sent out to canning men in all parts of the state by Herbert L. Herrington, president of the Utah Canners' association, and a large attendance is expected.

DON M. DICKINSON
