

PERSONS AND PLACES THAT FIGURE IN THE DAY'S NEWS AS RECORDED BY THE PHOTOGRAPHER

HOW THE LIBERTY BELL CRACK IS EXTENDING
For years this famous fissure remained in its perpendicular line a little more than half way up the side, then almost imperceptibly it extended itself up to the upper row of lettering at an angle. Now the grains of metal are separating until the fissure threatens to extend half way around the bell.

A PRIZE-WINNING WORKINGMAN
Henry Vinton Neal, mechanic in the shops of the Boston Elevated Railway, has been awarded the Anthony N. Brady bronze medal for his work in helping to instal a safety system which has reduced the percentage of accidents on the road to 19.6.

WILL HE BE ABLE TO END THE WAR?
A new portrait of Pope Benedict XV, whose greatest ambition now, it is declared, is to bring about an understanding between the warring Powers that will result in peace before further death and destruction are caused.

LOADING FLOUR HERE TO FEED THE BELGIANS
The steamer South Point, which came to take on this cargo, was held up in loading by a strike, but has obtained a new force of stevedores to handle the thousands of bags of flour donated by the millers of the Northwest.

CHIEF OF THE NAVAL FLIERS
Captain Mark L. Bristol, U. S. N., is head of the Bureau of Naval Aeronautics, for which the House Naval Committee has recommended an appropriation of $1,000,000 to be expended in developing an air fleet.

800 MEMBERS OF THE CREW OF THE MORENO
They are quartered here on the transports Chaco and Patopas, while they wait to occupy their posts on the new warship. Most of them are men of small but wiry build. A number came from inland towns and are of Indian blood.

HERE TO CLAIM ARGENTINE DREADNOUGHT
Fifty naval officers from the South American republic have arrived to take charge of the battleship Moreno, now being finished in the New York Shipbuilding Company's yards in Camden. They are graduates of the Naval Academy at Buenos Aires.
