Six Army Corps Press Forward to Overwhelm Austrians.

PETROGRAD, Jan. 26. More than six Russian corps, approxinately 250,000 men, have been concentrated in Southern Bukowina. For five days only troop trains have been per-mitted on the two railroad lines running south from Czernowitz.

Early in the war the Russian General Staff underestimated the strategic value of the possession of Bukowina and the of the possession of Bukowina and the Kirlibaba and Borgo, passes. This error permitted a great flank movement by an Austrian army that carried it to Northern Bukowina and for a time threatened the ear of tre Russian forces advancing westward through Galicia. ## CROW'S FOES SEE HIS HOPES LOST IN THOMPSON FAILURE

Republican State Chairman's Chances for Senatorship Depend on Clearing Up of His County's Finances.

UNIONTOWN, Pa., Jan. 28.-State Senator William E. Crow's chances for the Republican nomination for the United States Senate, to succeed Senator Oliver, will depend largely on the alacrity with which the financial conditions in Crow's home territory are cleared up.

Not only is the Republican State Chairman himself involved in J. V. Thompson's failure, but scores of Crow's political agents in Fayette County, who got their power through money made in Thompson's soft coal speculations, will probably lose heavily. Crow's power throughout the State is threatened, and it is believed that if his financial backing at home is swept away the State leaders may turn their backs on him as a Senatorial possibility.

Comptroller of the Currency Williams ondemnation of the methods employed in the First National Bank has had a tendency throughout the western half of the State, at least, to undermine Crow's Political leaders in Fayette strength. # IN THE CHURCH

Big Audience Hears Evangelist Declare Members of Congregations Are in Need of Conversion.

"Billy" Sunday this afternoon made onof his strongest attacks on the indifference of church members-to the soul-salvation of those about them. He preached his second sermon on "Personal Work."

Sunday spoke in the tabernacle before a large audience. In the throng were more than 1200 persons, who had come here by special train from Quakertown, Perkasie, Sellersville and other towns along the Reading Railway.

Pointing his finger downward into the faces of his auditors and then wheeling about and facing the clergymen and church officials on the platform, "Billy" shouted his denunciation of church and ministerial indifference and urged all to work for the salvation of those about them.

"I want to say to the deacons, stewards, vestrymen and prudential committees," he shouted, "that they should work hard. The place to begin is in your own home. "The trouble is we are too lackadalsical in religion," he continued. "We are too indifferent and dead and lifeless. I think the multitude in the church will have to get converted themselves before they can lead any one else to Christ. It is my firm conviction, after the many years that I have been in this work, that half the people in the churches have never been converted, have never been born again." It was a rather serious sermon throughout today. It was one of the most serious "Billy" has preached here. He was pleading for the Christian men and women to get busy for Christ, and to have their thoughts occupied in doing good for those about them.

URGES OLD-TIME FAITH. Time after time, in order to drive home his thrusts, the evangelist pounded the millions for its needed improvements. It was drafted in 1913 by Director Taylor, and was part of the program for the excansion of the subway and elevated avatems. As it was adopted by the last Leg-islature and has the support of the present leaders, the people will have an op-portunity to vote on the amendment at the November election. In order to clear the tracks for the Taylor amendment, Senator Vare said he had withdrawn his support from a con-flicting resolution introduced by him at the last session. This resolution had been supported by Director Norris, of the De-partment of Wharves, Docks and Ferries, and provided for a $25,000,000 bond issue for port development.

The amendment proposed by Senator Vare would give the city many extra-

As the Taylor amendment provided for both port and transit development, the leaders agreed it should have preference over the original Vare-Norris measure. Senator Vare explained that he took this step for the general welfare of the city. His action meets the approval of Director Norris, as well as that of Director Tay-or. The plan also has the indorsement of City Solicitor Ryan. Mr. Taylor is said to have had a brief

THREE BRITISH WARSHIPS SUNK. GERMANS INSIST

Cruiser, With Two Torpedo Boats, Lost in North Sea Battle, Says Berlin Re-

BERLIN, Jan. 28.-The German Admiralty now insists that three British var vessels were sunk in Sunday's naval battle west of Hellgoland, between the German and English fleets. An official statement issued today reiterated the declaration that a British cruiser had gone to the bottom and also asserted that two British torpedoboats were sunk.

The Admiralty states for the first time that airships were flying above the scene of the naval battle while it was taking place. The information as to the sinking of the three British vessels came from Manufacturers in New York, at present is in Newfoundland on business which will detain him until the middle of next month. Baron Korff, Russian Consulate General in New York, is the other repre-sentative of the commission there. In addition to the president of the com-mission, Colonel Javkovsky, of the Em-

The greatest secrecy has been maintained regarding the commission, and the fact that purchases were being made in the United States on a large scale by the Russian Government. Colonel Golejewski admitted today that the commission had been actively at work for three months.

In making all purchases, the commission is dealing directly with the manufacturers. It is impossible at this time to state exactly what purchases have been made by the commission, and from what port these purchases have been shipped.

The State Department was informed today of the existence of the commission. The purchase of the material sought by the Russian Government, if conducted with American merchants, is not objectionable to the American Government, as provision for just such procedure is made in the code of international law, officials said. The department is concerned, how-ever, about the way in which the loan was engineered. In view of the proclamation issued by the President in the interests of neutral-ity, floation of loans is considered by the State Department as a violation of the neutrality of the country, and if such is the case, steps will be taken by the Ad-ministration against those responsible for the loan. On the other hand, if certain American bankers merely have extended to the Russian official commission a credit of $30,000,000, it will cause no official stir.

In this connection attention is directed to Secretary Bryan's recent defense of the neutrality of this country. The letter was reply to Senator Stone's request in reply to Schator Stone's request for information and was printed in full in the Evening Ledger of yesterday.

Answering directly the inquiry whether the policy of this country had been changed in regard to loans to belligerents.

Secretary Bryan said:

"It is asserted that the American Government's policy affects all Governments alike. The dangers of loans through popular subscriptions arousing partisanship through monetary interest in the success of the beliggerents is pointed out, in contrast to purely credit transactions for the purchase of war supplies, the money for which does not leave the United States, and could not, as in the case of a loan, affect the finances of this country.
