

TBD Devastator torpedo bomber with folded wings aboard the aircraft carrier USS Enterprise (CV-6).
All photos © LIFE magazine. For educational, non-commercial use.

Northrop BT-1 dive bomber, # 0631.

Gun crew aboard the aircraft carrier USS Enterprise (CV-6) relax during US Navy's Pacific Fleet maneuvers near Hawaii, 1940.

March 1941—Relaxed shot of crewmen aboard the American aircraft carrier USS Enterprise (CV-6).

Curtiss SBC-3 Helldiver scout-dive bombers being readied for takeoff from the aircraft carrier Enterprise (CV-6) during the US Navy's Pacific Fleet maneuvers around Hawaii.

SBC-3 Helldiver scout plane (# 0542) preparing for carrier launch during US Navy maneuvers off the Hawaiian Islands. 1941

Squadron of American Douglas TBD Devastator torpedo bombers from the aircraft carrier USS Enterprise (CV-6) in flight near Diamond Head prior to WWII.

Squadron of Douglas TBD Devastator torpedo bombers in flight during the US Navy's Pacific fleet maneuvers.

Crew of the American aircraft carrier USS Enterprise (CV-6) servicing SBC-3 Helldiver dive bombers on deck during maneuvers off Hawaii.

Flight crews awaiting return of planes aboard the aircraft carrier USS Enterprise (CV-6), 1941.

Marines in dress uniforms.