How Pretty Society Girl Originated F-4 Benefit

Casual Remark Started Movement For Tonight's Entertainment—Proceeds Go to Dependents of Officers and Submarine Crew.

This is the story of a casual remark that has caused a movement for tonight's entertainment and the proceeds will be used for the dependents of officers and submarine crew. It all started with a casual remark by a society girl in the reception room of a Southern hotel. The remark was that F-4 Benefit would have been better if it had been called the "Pretty Society Girl Benefit." The hotel management took this suggestion seriously and gave it careful consideration. They then decided to hold the event and use the proceeds to support the dependents of officers and submarine crew. The event will take place tonight and all are invited to attend and support the cause.

The Benefit Organized.

The hotel management organized the event and invited many prominent guests to attend. They arranged for an entertainment program that included music, dance, and other performances. The event was well attended and the proceeds were donated to the dependents of officers and submarine crew. The success of the event inspired hotel management to continue organizing similar events to support the dependents of officers and submarine crew.
