Honolulu Star-Bulletin

F-4 STILL LOST; SEARCH KEPT UP AND HOPES FOR 21 MEN ARE HIGHER

THE SUBMARINE F-4, PHOTOGRAPHED IN HARBOR

Sea-bed Swept in Attempt to Locate Craft

F-4 Disaster First in History of U. S.

WASHINGTON, D. C., March 28—The records of the United States Navy indicate that the F-4, a submarine, was lost at sea on March 26. The submarine was reported to have been swept away by a strong current. The search for the missing submarine is continuing. The U. S. Navy is releasing no further details of the accident.