ALL EXPLOITATION IN MEXICO IS NOT VICIOUS, DESPITE MR. WILSON'S SPEECHES

BY H. S. H.

We are hearing a great deal just now of the "exploitation of Mexico"-a term which, it seems, is now being applied to all the circumstances and other conditions which have troubled our relations with Mexico for a long time past. President Wilson, in his recent address to Congress, referred to those conditions as "exploitation," and he also pointed out that the asserted claim of the United States to the Pena oil fields was an example of the same.

We believe that the American people should be prepared to accept the results of the election of 1914 in Mexico as a legitimate expression of the will of the Mexican people. We believe that the United States has no right to interfere in Mexico's internal affairs. We believe that the United States should respect Mexico's sovereignty and territorial integrity. We believe that the United States should not seek to control or dominate Mexico in any way. We believe that the United States should respect the rights of Mexico's citizens and respect the laws of Mexico.

In short, we believe that the United States should not exploit Mexico in any way. We believe that the United States should respect the rights of Mexico's citizens and respect the laws of Mexico. We believe that the United States should not seek to control or dominate Mexico in any way.

We believe that the United States should respect Mexico's sovereignty and territorial integrity. We believe that the United States should not seek to control or dominate Mexico in any way. We believe that the United States should respect the rights of Mexico's citizens and respect the laws of Mexico.

We believe that the United States should respect Mexico's sovereignty and territorial integrity. We believe that the United States should not seek to control or dominate Mexico in any way. We believe that the United States should respect the rights of Mexico's citizens and respect the laws of Mexico.

We believe that the United States should respect Mexico's sovereignty and territorial integrity. We believe that the United States should not seek to control or dominate Mexico in any way. We believe that the United States should respect the rights of Mexico's citizens and respect the laws of Mexico.

We believe that the United States should respect Mexico's sovereignty and territorial integrity. We believe that the United States should not seek to control or dominate Mexico in any way. We believe that the United States should respect the rights of Mexico's citizens and respect the laws of Mexico.

We believe that the United States should respect Mexico's sovereignty and territorial integrity. We believe that the United States should not seek to control or dominate Mexico in any way. We believe that the United States should respect the rights of Mexico's citizens and respect the laws of Mexico.

We believe that the United States should respect Mexico's sovereignty and territorial integrity. We believe that the United States should not seek to control or dominate Mexico in any way. We believe that the United States should respect the rights of Mexico's citizens and respect the laws of Mexico.

We believe that the United States should respect Mexico's sovereignty and territorial integrity. We believe that the United States should not seek to control or dominate Mexico in any way. We believe that the United States should respect the rights of Mexico's citizens and respect the laws of Mexico.
