SALT LAKE OFFERS WARM
WELCOME TO NAVAL HERO

Her People Will Vie With Each Other In Honoring Admiral Schley.

Programme For Entertainment and Reception of Cervera's
Conqueror Is Completed.

TODAY'S PROGRAMME.

The programme arranged in honor of Admiral Schley today is as follows:
6:45 a. m.—Special train bearing reception committee leaves for Provo.
9:30 a. m.—Arrival of Admiral Schley and party. Drive to George Y. Wallace's residence, east on Second South to Main, north on Main to Brigham, east on Brigham to U, north on U to Third, east on Third to Poperton.
2 p. m.—Special musical programme half an hour in length, at the Tabernacle.
2:45 p. m.—Special train with Admiral Schley and party and the reception committee, leaves for Saltair.
4 p. m.—Return of the guests and citizens. Drive about the city.
6:30 p. m.—Dinner at the Alta Club to Admiral Schley and friends by George Y. Wallace.
At the conclusion of the drive Admiral and Mrs. Schley, with General and Mrs. Manderson, will return to the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Wallace, where they will retire early, in order to secure a good rest, to fortify them for the events of tomorrow.

Some of Salt Lake's citizens are going to cut their usual Sunday morning nap off short today. By doing so they will be enabled to perform a patriotic duty that, at the same time, will be a pleasure for every one of them. They go to Provo at 6:45 to meet and welcome Admiral Winfield Scott Schley, the man who made junk out of the flower of Spain's navy. Right cheerfully will the members of the reception committee turn out instead of turning over when their alarm clocks go off this morning.

Last Details Perfected.

Yesterday the last details of the programme were completed. In the night of the preparations a lamper was thrown over the arbor of the committee by the receipt of a telegram from General Manderson. It was addressed to George Y. Wallace, and signed by General Manderson, and said:

"Party, consisting of Admiral and Mrs. Schley, wife and self, all exceedingly fatigued, and must have quiet and rest at Salt Lake City. Please dispense with public receptions and everything fatiguing. Kindly communicate to the governor and mayor. Will go to your home upon arrival."

For a few minutes only did the committee allow the wind to be taken out of their sails. After a brief period of uncertainty Mr. Wallace wired General Manderson a brief outline of the method of entertainment, as follows:

"Present arrangements committee have you at Provo. Arrival here party goes right to my house, where all is ready, and rests there until 2 o'clock. Drive to Tabernacle for half hour's service, followed by trip to Salt Lake. Dinner ends Sunday exercises. Monday, 10:30 a. m., unveil bust of Lincoln at high school. Appear at public meeting at joint building at H. Lunch at L. Eat for Ogden. Mass-meeting of feature in the least objectionable. Programme not nearly so fatiguing as advertised Sunday at Saltair last year. These names are as follows:

"Schley Endorses Programme." After Mr. Wallace had gotten this telegram the committees went ahead with their programmes just as if they knew Admiral Schley would endorse and take part in every exercise. Their hopes and plans were well founded, for at 9 o'clock last night an answer reached Mr. Wallace. It was dated at Glenwood Springs, and was brief, but pointed. It read:

"E. F. MANDERSON." When Admiral Schley is coming in a special car reaches Provo, his car will be switched to the train occupied by the committee. This will bring the party to Salt Lake some ten or twenty minutes behind the regular train. On arriving here the Schley party will be driven to Mr. Wallace's residence, taking the route indicated entirely satisfactory.

At 2 o'clock a special concert is to be given for the admiral in the tabernacle. The proceedings of the Young Men's and Young Ladies' Mutual Improvement societies' conference will be temporarily suspended on this account. At 4:30 Admiral Schley will be driven to the R. G. W. depot, where a special train will be in waiting to take him to Saltair. A carriage drive, followed by a party at the Alta club, at which Mr. Wallace will be the host, will conclude today's programme. The guests at the dinner will be:

Admiral and Mrs. Schley, General and Mrs. Manderson, Senator and Mrs. Rawlins, Mr. and Mrs. David S. Murray, Major and Mrs. George M. Downey, Major and Mrs. Wilkes, Judge and Mrs. Goodwin, Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Sharp, Governor Heber M. Wells, Mr. George M. Scott, Miss Mackintosh, Mr. W. S. McCormick, Miss Murray, Miss Mackintosh, Mrs. Knap, Mr. Samuel Newhouse and Mr. Richard Mackintosh.

Tomorrow at 10 o'clock the reception committee will go to Mr. Wallace's residence in carriages and escort Admiral Schley to the High school, where, at 10:30, he unveils a bust of Lincoln. Held's band will probably meet the party about 12 street and precede it to the High school building.

Welcome of Children. The pupils of the public schools are to be massed on Brigham street in this order:

From Eagle Gate east to A street, the Riverside, Fremont and Grant schools.
From A to B streets, the Bonneville school.
From B to C streets, the Irving and Jackson schools.
From C to D streets, the Uintah, Jordan and Whittier schools.
From D to E streets, the Washington school.
From E to F streets, the Eighth, Emerson, Training and Twelfth schools.
From F to G streets, the Lowell school.
From G to H streets, the Longfellow and Sumner schools.
From H to J streets, the Wasatch and Bryant schools.
From J to K streets, the Webster school.
From K to L streets, the Hamilton school.

The pupils will be ranged in double rank on the north side of the street. If there is too much room, the schools will close up toward the Eagle Gate, maintaining their relative positions.
At the High school the following programme will be given:
Singing of "Star Spangled Banner" by school on entrance of admiral.
Welcome of school, Waldemar Young.
Welcome of G. A. R. and citizens, Colonel M. M. Kain, department commander.
Response and unveiling of statue of Lincoln by Admiral Schley.
Address on "Lincoln," Frank Eddingfield.
Singing of "America," school and audience.
At the conclusion of this programme the G. A. R. will act as escort of honor, and headed by Held's band, the guests of honor will be taken to the joint building. There a platform has been placed in the north end of the corridor on the first floor. It is not known whether Admiral Schley will care to go through a handshaking ordeal of indefinite length or not. If he doesn't, he can stand on the platform and make a little talk.

There will be other speakers, but it hasn't been decided who they are. Probably Governor Wells, for the state, and Mayor Clark for the city, will make talks and Admiral Schley will briefly respond, or delegate General Manderson to speak for him. All these points will be decided today.

At the conclusion of the reception Governor Wells gives a luncheon at the Alta club for the admiral and his party, with a number of other guests. When the luncheon is over, good-byes will be said and the Schley party will be driven to the Short Line depot, where, at 4 o'clock, a special will convey them to Ogden.

Reception at Ogden. The Junction city people are preparing to give the admiral a great reception. The committee having in charge the entertainment of the Church of the Good Shepherd tomorrow night induced Admiral Schley to stay several hours in Ogden. The committee wired to Omaha to get the train held in Ogden long enough to permit him to see an entertainment exclusively by Utah talent. The railroad people wired back that they could not do this, because the train carried mail. However, they will run a special leaving Ogden whenever the admiral might desire, and would run it all the way to Omaha entirely free of charge.

Boxes at the entertainment have been reserved for the admiral and party, for representatives of the entertainment committee, and also for a number of Salt Lake's, including Governor Wells and George Y. Wallace. After the entertainment the admiral and party will be tendered an informal reception in the opera house.

Alta Club Reception Off. The members of the Alta club, out of deference to the telegraphic request of Admiral Schley that no public reception be tendered him while in Salt Lake, for the reason that he is much fatigued, the proposed reception at the Alta club on Sunday evening has been abandoned.

BATTLE OF SANTIAGO. How Schley Destroyed Spain's Atlantic Fleet. It may be of interest today to recount the story of the battle off Santiago on the 3rd of last July, as told by an Associated Press correspondent who was in the thick of the fight on board the Brooklyn, from which the alarm was first given, and which pursued and sank the Cristobal Colon sixty miles west of where the engagement opened.

The first reports received were very vague, owing largely to the fact that they were sent out by Rear Admiral Sampson, who had the misfortune to be absent from the conflict. But the official reports, with the single exception of that sent the naval department by (Continued on Page 2.)

REAR ADMIRAL WINFIELD SCOTT SCHLEY

Washington, May 27.—Next in the series of reports of the operations near Manila which the war department is making public is that of Major Richard W. Young of the famous Utah light artillery. Major Young's report is accompanied by a report from his subordinate officers, Captain and Brovet Major F. A. Grant, Captain R. A. Wedgwood, First Lieutenant George A. Gibbs and Second Lieutenants George A. Seeman, A. S. Fleming and W. C. Webb. All of these are in large part purely technical and give detailed accounts of the various movements made by the component parts of this organization, which appears to have participated at an important point in every engagement which has taken place in Luzon. In his report, which tells the story of the operations from Feb. 15, Major Young, after describing the advance on Caloccan, says:

"I am satisfied that no troops during this advance have performed more dangerous service than the detachment under Lieutenant Seeman in their perilous progress upon the Caloccan road, too much, therefore, in my judgment, cannot be said in praise of their intrepidity and efficiency." Advance on Caloccan. Major Young also mentions the good work of two guns of the Sixth artillery under Lieutenant A. S. Fleming, who were assigned to his division in this action. He says: "During the advance on Caloccan this battery did very valuable and effective work under a heavy small arms fire from the enemy."
