

Mr. J. A. Gilmore as "The Sheik" and Mrs. T. D. Armour as a Turkish girl at the Hallowe'en costume ball at the Westchester Biltmore Country Club.
International.

Rt. Rev. Charles L. Slattery, former rector of Grace Episcopal Church, New York, being consecrated Bishop Coadjutor of the Diocese of Massachusetts at Trinity Church, Boston.
Keystone.

The Charles W. Morgan, oldest whaler in the world, built in 1841 and still sailing the seas, at her dock in New Bedford.
Underwood & Underwood.

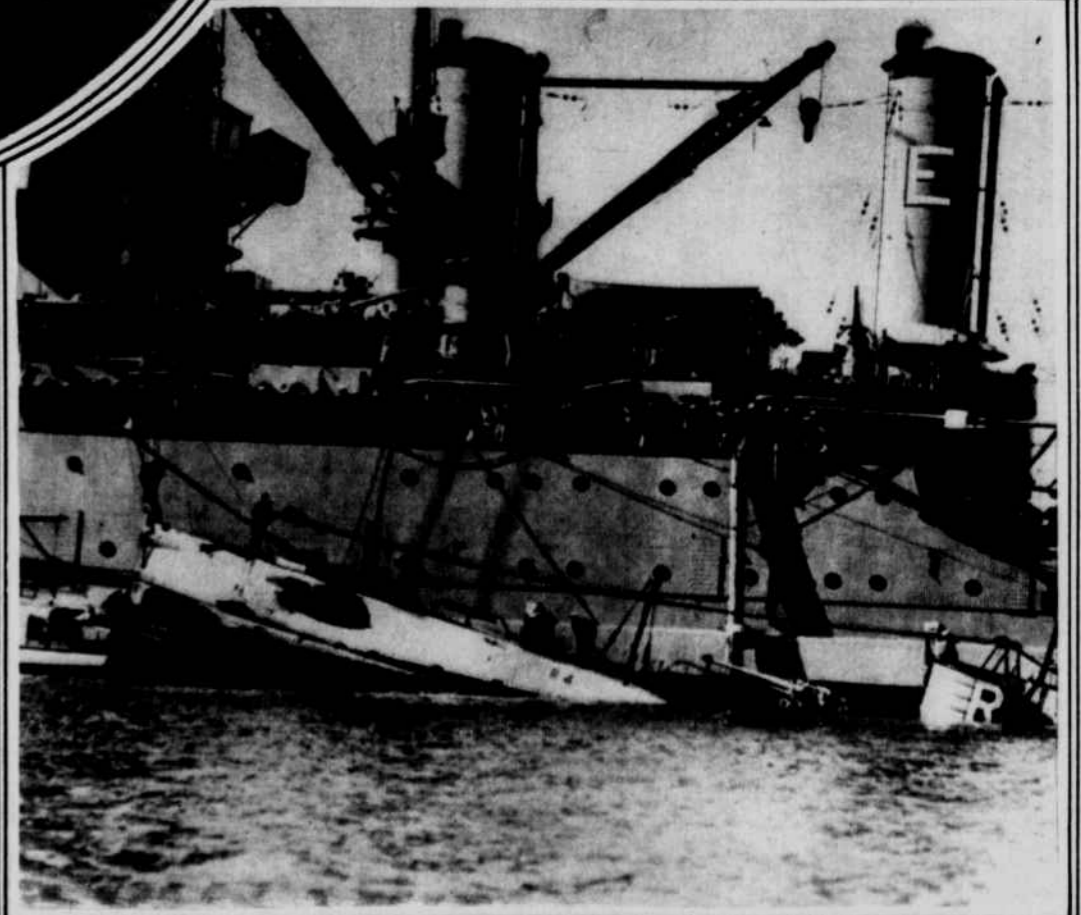

Breaking ground for the baseball college for amateurs. Sam Crawford holds his famous bat while Miss Edith Roberts dedicates it to the new school at Burbank, Cal.
Underwood & Underwood.

Miss Lucile Atcherson, America's first woman diplomat, who was appointed secretary of the American Embassy at Paris recently by President Harding.
Fotograms.

An unusual photograph of the colony of brown pelicans on Pelican Island, off the east coast of Florida, established as a bird refuge by the Government. Eggs and young birds are very carefully protected by the older ones, which gather food in the inland waters.
Florida Photo Concern.

The United States submarine R-4 being hoisted above the water by the battleship California in Los Angeles harbor to facilitate the removal of a torpedo which had jammed in the firing tube.
International.