THE SABALO (sah' bah lo)

"SABALO" is a Spanish word defined in dictionaries as meaning "Shad." Other authorities state that the word is used by Spanish and French fishermen in the Gulf of Mexico and West Indies when referring to the Tarpon.

The Tarpon is a noted game fish and is the delight of sports fishermen, because of the tenacity and resourcefulness of its fight when caught. It is not unusual to take several hours of hard work and skillful manipulation before the fish can be brought to the gaff.

It is a certainty that the courage, tenacity, and resourceful qualities of our heritage, combined with the American fighting spirit and will-to-win, will make the SABALO an excellent fighting ship.
