Meial announcements to-day regarding #25 operations at the Dardanelles, either sere or in Paris, and the public has ad to content itself with the latest Turkish official report of events in this campaign, which makes extravagant claims of Turkish victories, which are not believed here. It is now asserted officially in Constantinople, for instance, that the British battleship Vengeand has been set on fire by shells from the Turkish fortifications and has had to 250,000 American members of trade

Turkish fortifications and has had to retire from the general bombardment being carried on by the allied fleet.

Already the Turkish War Office had claimed that the French cruiser Jeanne d'Arc and the Majestic and the Triumph had been put out of the engagement by the effectiveness of the Turkish fire, although the British and French War Offices have failed to give even a hint of such have failed to give even a hint of such Constantinople also has it that several transports and torpedo boat destroyers attached to the Anglo-French fleet have been sunk, and that the Allies have lost several thousands in killed

It is pointed out here that the an-nouncements of the Turkish War Office are meant for home reading only and the the only official statements which the Government permits the newspapers to print, excepting, of course, the Berlin official statement, those of the British and French War Offices being barred to which empowers the congress itself to ask neutral countries to take steps to reate a conference of neutrals which without delay shall offer continuous mediation by inviting suggestions for a settlement from each of the belligerents and by submitting to all of them reasonable proposals for peace.

Thereafter a permanent international committee was formed to make recommendations for conferences at The Hague and to arrange for a peace con-

The correspondent in Athens of the Havas Agency telegraphs that the Gallipoli Peninsula is gradually being cut off from its source of supplies at Constantinopie, and that the same fate is befalling Turkish Thrace through the successes of the British landing force operating from Enos. It is now said to be impossible for the Turks to pass from one shore to the other of the Gallipoli Peninsula, while their main forces have been driven back and cooped up between the town of Gallipoli and Maidos, on the side of the strait.

The Turkish forces have been driven in retreat as far as Tsani and Pazarkol, fifteen hours journey from Gallipoli, says fifteen hours journey from Gallipoli, says another despatch from Athens.

French Senegalese troops have been conducting themselves with great valor on the Asiatic coast, acording to this informant, having occupied Yeni Shehr, while Nechori and Nagara are being violently bombarded. It appears that on the Gallipoli side the British forces are now attempting to silence the line of Turkish fortifications extending across the peninsula in the vicinity of Bulair. If this is ac-complished and the barricade across the peninsula at this point is made unpassable, the fortifications at Kilid Bahr and at other points along the narrows, as well as on the entire southern end of the peninsula, will be cut off from their source of supplies further east and must soon succumb for rant of ammunition and supplies.

The official report of the Turkish War Office follows: At Gaba Tebeh, on the Peninsula of Gallipoli, the enemy was shut in in a narrow strip of land and, after attempting to fight his way out, was forced to retreat to the protection of his ships, after suffering enormous losses. On the shores of the Bay of Saros an attempted landing by the enemy was frustrated with heavy loss. The official British communireviewing the fighting from y to Thursday admits heavy losses to the allied army and fleet.

BOUGHT FOR AUSTRIA MAY DAY IN BERLIN

ing or Making Arms, Herr Heine Explains.

IS IMPENDING 1,500,000 ARE AT FRONT

BERLIN, via The Hague, May 1 .- For the first time in a quarter of a century there was no May Day celebration throughout Germany to-day. The red flags of the Socialists and the speeches of the trade union leaders all were missing. The great day of the year for the Social Democrats passed without any demonstration.

Wolfgang Heine, one of the leading Socialists and almost the only prominent leader of the party now in the city, explained why no effort had been made to observe the day:
"A million and a half Socialists are fighting shoulder to shoulder in the trenches with the three million other German voters," he said, "Those who are not fighting are at work making war materials. All our leaders and speakers are fighting or working and there is none left to observe the day."

Asked why it is that the Socialists are fighting at all, Herr Heine said :

"Russia always has dreamed of con-quering the world. From the time of Peter the Great Russia has hated Germany because of the latter's geographical position. For a million German workers and their families this Russian invasion has meant death. But Ger-many had to fight. We Socialists hope that this will be the last war. wish that this savage business of kill-ing everybody were ended. Everybody in Germany desires peace when it can be secured with honor."
